Georgia Knows The Road To Omaha

Head Coach David Perno is among a select few in the country to make it to the College World Series as a Player (1990 National Champions), Assistant Coach (2001) and as a Head Coach (2004, 2006 & 2008). Perno along with Jason Eller, Brady Wiederhold, Justin Holmes and Kris Edge comprise the 2010 Bulldog staff.

Georgia on TV

In 2009, Georgia had 24 games televised. The Bulldogs had a record 31 games televised in 2008 by either ESPN, ESPN2, ESPNU, FSN or CSS network.

ESPN came to Athens and Foley Field for the 2006 and 2008 NCAA Super Regionals. ESPNU will be back in Athens during the 2010 regular season.*

SEC Titles

1933, 1953, 1954, 2001, 2004, 2008

Gold Glove Awards

Georgia's Jonathan Wyatt (2007) and Rich Poythress (2008) have earned Gold Glove Awards as the nation's best defensive players at their positions.

All-Americans

Georgia has had 31 All-Americans, 21 Freshman All-Americans and five Academic All-Americans in school history.

Bulldog Professionals

Georgia led the nation with 11 players selected in the 2009 MLB draft. Georgia has had at least one player sign a pro contract for 37 straight seasons.

A total of 48 Georgia Bulldogs since 2001 have either been drafted or signed as a free agent.

Major Leaguers

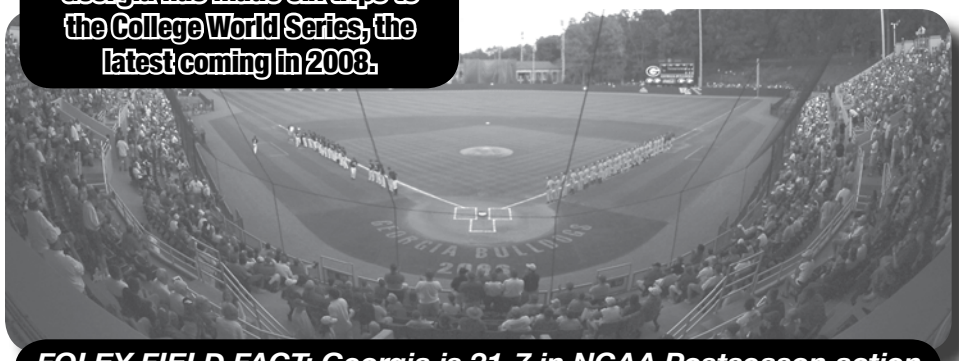
Thirty-three former Bulldogs have reached the Major League level:

In 2009, Gordon Beckham (Chicago), Jeff Keppinger (Houston), Clint Sammons (Atlanta), and Mitchell Boggs (St. Louis) were in the Majors.

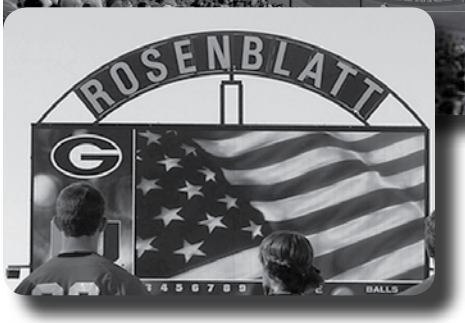
Foley Field

Hosted and Won NCAA Regionals in 2001, 2004, 2006 and 2008.
Hosted and Won NCAA Super Regionals in 2001, 2006 and 2008.

Georgia has made six trips to the College World Series, the latest coming in 2008.



FOLEY FIELD FACT: Georgia is 21-7 in NCAA Postseason action in Athens including a perfect 16-0 in elimination games.



2008 CWS Finalists

Georgia opened the 2008 College World Series with a 7-4 win over #1 Miami.

Professional Opportunities

Since Coach David Perno returned to Georgia, a total of 29 Bulldog pitchers have signed professional contracts. Since 2005, five Bulldog pitchers have been selected in the top five rounds and four of them were not drafted coming out of high school!

Getting The Ball

Georgia recruits pitchers who are talented, confident and have that competitive nature to contribute immediately. Bulldog pitchers should welcome the competition and atmosphere they will experience around the SEC.

Brooks Brown
1st Round Pick

In 2009, a total of more than 1.8 million fans attended SEC baseball games. The average attendance at a 2009 SEC baseball game around the league was 4,689.

The Importance Of A Strong Bullpen

Georgia has had double-digit saves in seven of the past eight seasons including a school record 19 in 2008. Coach Perno and pitching coach Brady Wiederhold firmly believe in developing a strong bullpen to protect their starting pitchers and to shorten games. There has been only ONE Georgia pitcher since 2002 that has logged more than 100 innings in a season.

Jeff Walters
2-0, 4.64 ERA in 2009

Michael Palazzone
3-0, 5.13 ERA in 2009

It starts on the hill, and that's one place the Bulldogs have an assortment of veterans. Georgia's starting nine in 2010 will be a collection of freshmen and sophomores, but most games there will be a seasoned Bulldog on the mound.

Georgia returns 19 lettermen this season including 10 pitchers off the 2009 squad that finished the year at the NCAA Tallahassee Regional with a 38-24 record. The team was ranked as high as No. 1 during the year and wound up No. 24 in the final ESPN/USA Today coaches poll.

"We have excellent pitching depth, I feel very good about our defense as a whole and our lineup has a good balance," said Georgia coach David Perno. "We won't have the power like last year, but we won't have all the strikeouts either."

In 2009, Georgia set school records with 109 home runs and 522 strikeouts. Eighty-four of those home runs are gone along with 341 strikeouts. Georgia's 2010 probable lineup includes six sophomores and three freshmen.

"Being young is somewhat overrated because we're not that young," said Perno. "The six sophomores played their roles in 2009, got experience and some confidence and now will have much bigger roles in 2010. We're not starting from scratch. They understand they're going to be everyday players now. It may take a little time, but I like the way our lineup shapes up."

VETERAN PITCHING

Georgia's 2010 rotation features a trio of right-handers in junior Justin Grimm, senior Jeff Walters and sophomore Michael Palazzone. Grimm is projected as a potential first round draft pick after an impressive end to his sophomore season and summer in the Cape Cod League against the nation's top talent. Walters has been drafted four times in his career, including by Baltimore in the 17th round in 2009. Palazzone, an 18th-round pick by Atlanta coming out of high school in 2008, is draft-eligible too this year.

"Justin was our best guy towards the end of the season and performed well in the postseason," said Bulldog pitching coach Brady Wiederhold. "Jeff had an outstanding fall to earn a starting role and Michael has continued to develop in to a stronger, more durable pitcher. Jeff and Michael are ready to be starters."

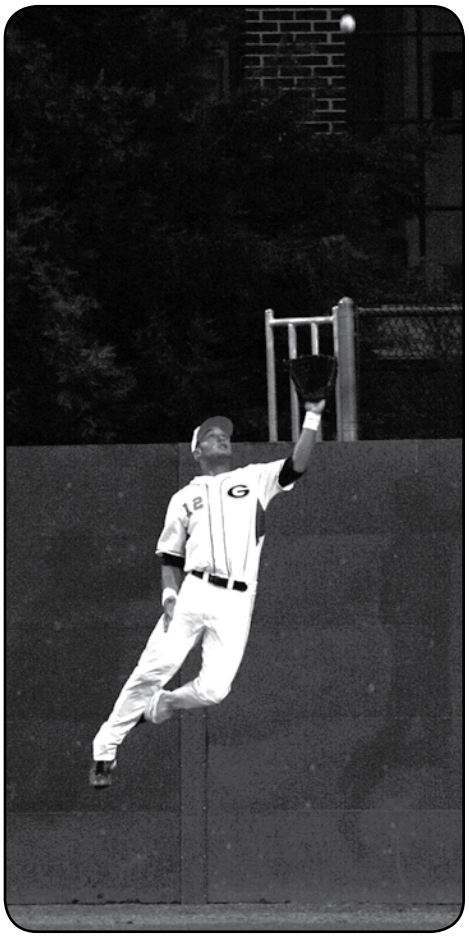
Georgia's midweek starters look to be sophomore Chase Hawkins (LHP) along with freshmen Blake Dieterich (LHP) and Malcolm Clapsaddle (RHP). The middle to long relievers expected to see a majority of the action are seniors Justin Earls (LHP) and Steve Esmonde (RHP) along with newcomers Patrick Boling (LHP), Eric Swegman (RHP) and Ben Cornwell (RHP).

Georgia has a trio of options to close out games this year in senior Alex McRee (LHP), sophomore Cecil Tanner (RHP) and freshman Cooper Moseley (RHP). McRee looks to regain the top form he displayed in 2008 when he went 7-1 after fighting mononucleosis last year and ended up 4-4. Tanner was impressive this past fall, touching 99 miles per hour in several scrimmages. Moseley is a future closer who likely will be in a setup role in his first season.

"We kept a few pitchers who were drafted among our veterans and newcomers, and that gives us a nice staff that showed in the fall the ability to blend together," Wiederhold added. "We expect the seniors to lead this staff and our newcomers to be able to contribute immediately to complete a talented group."

YOUTHFUL LINEUP

Georgia's infield will be headlined by third baseman Colby May who earned Freshman All-America honors last year after hitting .339-11-42. He is a part of the super six sophomores that are the nucleus of the lineup. With the arrival of freshman



Zach Cone made his share of highlight catches in 2009 including this one against Clemson to preserve a 6-5 win.

Third baseman Colby May will lead the offense in 2010. He earned Freshman All-America honors in 2009 after batting .339-11-42.

shortstop Kyle Farmer, sophomore Levi Hyams slides over to second base this year and sophomore Chase Davidson becomes the top option at first base.

Redshirt freshman Kevin Ruiz will provide depth at the corner infield spots and see time as the designated hitter. Also, freshman Robert Shipman and junior Robbie O'Bryan will get action at first base and freshmen Todd Hankins and Moseley should see time at second base.

At catcher, Georgia likely will platoon freshman Brett DeLoach and sophomores Christian Glisson and Carson Schilling to begin the year. All three are capable receivers with DeLoach providing the best offensive potential and Glisson giving the Bulldogs another left-handed hitter in the lineup.

Georgia should have one of the best outfields in the Southeastern Conference, and it consists of sophomores Jonathan Taylor (LF), Zach Cone (CF) and Peter Verdin (RF).

"Our outfield has a chance to be the best we've ever had because of their athleticism and ability to cover ground," said Perno.

Freshman Zach Taylor, sophomore Lance Martin and Ruiz round out this talented group who will see action in 2010.

2010 SCHEDULE

Georgia will play 10 of its first 18 games on the road before opening the SEC season at home against Auburn. Georgia begins the season with four games in Waco, Texas against host Baylor and Duke. The Bulldogs have their annual home-and-home series with Clemson and Georgia Tech plus they will return to Tallahassee for a three-game set with Florida State in early March.

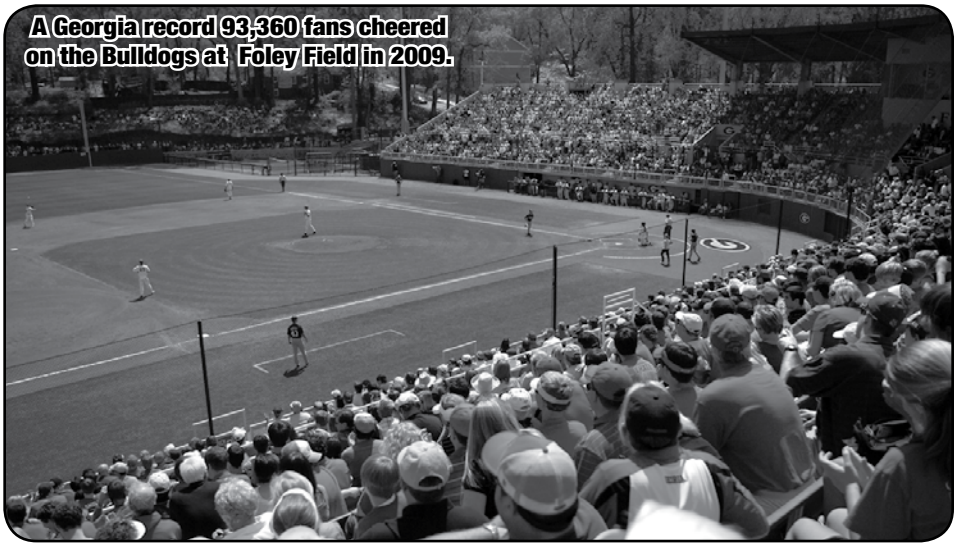
One unique twist of the 30-game SEC schedule this season is the Bulldogs will play their first five series against Western Division teams and then the second half will be all Eastern Division foes. After the Auburn series, Georgia travels to Mississippi State and LSU, then plays host to Ole Miss and finishes the Western Division swing at Arkansas. The Eastern Division slate begins with South Carolina coming to Foley Field followed by a trip Vanderbilt then back home against Tennessee, then off to Florida and concluding the regular season in Athens versus Kentucky.

It's a challenging schedule and one we're more accustomed to playing compared to a much easier one we had in 2009," said Perno. "This schedule will prepare us for league and postseason play. We will play in some great environments like opening the year at Baylor and going back to Florida State. Both those teams will come to Athens in 2011 so our players and fans should look forward to those series."

OVERALL

Georgia has made six trips to the College World Series in nine NCAA Regional appearances. In 2010, they aim to make history as the first Bulldog squad to advance to an NCAA Regional in three consecutive seasons. Under Perno, Georgia has made five NCAA Regionals and reached Omaha in 2004, 2006 and 2008.

Ask the Bulldogs, and they will tell you the number one goal is always the same. Get to Hoover for the SEC Tournament and that gets you in an NCAA Regional. The Bulldogs have proven they know how to peak in the postseason and look to be back home in Omaha in 2010.



A Georgia record 93,360 fans cheered on the Bulldogs at Foley Field in 2009.

The Georgia Coaches' Pledge

"These student-athletes are entrusted to my care. I will train them to the best of my ability. I will develop them into smartly disciplined, physically fit, highly-trained athletes thoroughly indoctrinated in love for the Georgia Bulldogs who represent the University of Georgia and the athletic program in the highest possible manner.

I will encourage our athletes and insist that they perform to the best of their ability in the classroom as well as in the arena of competitive athletics. I will require of them, and demonstrate by my own example, the highest standards of integrity, personal conduct, morality, sportsmanship and professional skill."

In eight seasons at the University of Georgia, David Perno has guided the Bulldogs to five postseason appearances, more than any other coach in program history. He has taken three Georgia teams to college baseball's ultimate destination, the College World Series (CWS). Most recently, Perno led Georgia to the NCAA Tournament in 2008 and 2009, the school's first back-to-back trips to the postseason since 2001-02. He also led the 2008 squad to the College World Series Finals, another Southeastern Conference (SEC) title, a consensus No. 2 final national ranking and the second best finish in school history. He is one of only 12 men in NCAA history to take three teams to to the CWS in his first seven years as a head coach.

Perno, 42, begins his 14th year with the Bulldogs including the ninth as head coach. Under Perno, Georgia has shown a standard of excellence on and off the field. He has led the Bulldogs to the CWS in 2004, 2006 and 2008. Perno has the distinction of going to the CWS with the Bulldogs as a player (1990 national champions), assistant coach (2001) and three times as a head coach. In school history, the Bulldogs have made only nine NCAA Regionals, and five of those trips have been during Perno's tenure.

Player development is another highlight in the Perno era. A total of 34 Bulldogs have had the opportunity to play professional baseball after coming to Georgia as a non-drafted player. Also, 12 Bulldogs have improved their draft status the next time they were selected. In 2009, Georgia led the nation with 11 players drafted including seven that were not selected coming out of high school. Rich Poythress, a second round pick, headlined the 2009 contingent as the first baseman earned All-America honors and was a semifinalist for the Golden Spikes Award and the Dick Howser Trophy.

Under Perno, student-athletes have made the annual SEC Academic Honor Roll 87 times including a record 15 in 2008. A total of 42 Bulldogs have signed professional contracts.

Since 2006, Georgia has had five players drafted in the first three rounds including a pair of first-rounders, shortstop Gordon Beckham and pitcher Joshua Fields in 2008. The All-American Beckham was a second team Academic All-American, a finalist for the Golden Spikes Award, the Dick Howser Trophy and the Brooks Wallace Award. Fields earned the National Stopper of the Year Award as the nation's best closer, was a finalist for the Clemens Award and a semifinalist for the Golden Spikes.

In 2009, Perno guided Georgia to a 14-0 start, breaking the 98-year old record for the best start in school history and the program's first No. 1 ranking in the regular season. The Bulldogs led the SEC with a school record 109 home runs and for the second straight year under Perno, Georgia set school records for total attendance at Foley Field.

With the 2008 SEC title, the second under Perno, Georgia earned a national seed and served as a host for an NCAA Regional and Super Regional. The Bulldogs went 45-25-1 overall in reaching the CWS Finals and set a school record with a 20-9-1 league mark.

Perno earned SEC Coach of the Year honors for the second time. In 2008, Georgia became the first school in SEC history to sweep the annual league honors as voted on by the coaches. A Bulldog earned SEC Player, Pitcher, Scholar-Athlete and Coach of the Year accolades.

In only his third season at the helm, Perno, an Athens native and Georgia alumnus was honored as the 2004 College Coach of the Year by Baseball America. Perno guided the Bulldogs to a third place finish at the 2004 CWS, a share of the SEC title and a final national ranking of fourth. The Bulldogs went 45-23 in 2004, setting school records with a 12-game SEC winning streak, 28 games televised and the highest total attendance and per game average in Foley Field history.

Perno was also recognized by his colleagues as the 2004 American Baseball Coaches Assocation/Diamond South Regional Coach of the Year, the 2004 SEC Coach of the Year (along with Arkansas' Dave Van Horn) and the 2004 National Coach of the Year by College Baseball Insider.com. Georgia's recruiting class for 2004 was ranked 10th best nationally by Baseball America.

In 2006, the Bulldogs showcased another sizzling second half performance that featured a 13-game winning streak, going 23-7 over their final 30 games. In the SEC, they went 15-5 in their last 20 games to finish second in the Eastern Division and third overall. Georgia earned one of the 16 host sites for NCAA Regional play and eventually one of the eight Super Regional sites. Georgia eliminated Florida State to win a regional and South Carolina to capture a super regional to punch another ticket to Omaha. The Bulldogs concluded the year 47-23 and ranked sixth nationally. The 47 wins tied for the second most in school history and led the SEC.

In 2007, the Bulldogs played the second most games against ranked opponents of any SEC school despite having one of the youngest teams in the league. Georgia freshmen pitchers made 86 appearances, and Bulldog freshmen hitters tallied 703 at bats, and these totals ranked among the top three of any SEC team.

Perno has spearheaded numerous improvements to Foley Field including a new professional playing surface and installation of a drainage system, new and additional chair back seating for the fans and upgrading and renovation of the Bulldog locker room, athletic training room and players lounge. In 2006, the Foley Field upgrades included new lights and a state-of-the-art scoreboard/videoboard and sound system.

On July 21, 2001, Perno became the 24th baseball coach in school history. He had just completed his fifth year on the Georgia staff including his second under Ron Polk. Perno's recruiting efforts have helped build the program back to a force in the SEC. Perno's initial charge as head coach was to sustain the momentum created by the 2001 Bulldogs that captured the SEC title and advanced to the CWS. After the professional draft and graduation claimed Georgia's entire starting infield, pitching rotation and two catchers, Perno guided a youthful squad to the 2002 NCAA Atlanta Regional final and a record of 32-29. It marked the only time in school history that Georgia had made back-to-back trips to the NCAA Tournament. Georgia's 2002 schedule ranked among the toughest in the country, featuring 32 road games.

In 2003, the Bulldogs won eight of their last 12 games to finish 29-26. The final part of the schedule featured nine games against opponents ranked in the top 20 and Georgia went 5-4 including a series sweep of Georgia Tech for the first time since 1986. Freshmen played a major role especially in the pitching staff. They combined for a 14-9 mark and accounted for 42 percent of the innings pitched. The 14 wins by the 2003 rookie class tied a school mark. The 2004 season was the second most successful campaign in school history until the 2008 squad finished second. In 2005, Georgia narrowly missed the postseason, going 30-25 and falling a half-game short of qualifying for the SEC Tournament. Georgia tied a school record with six Bulldogs selected in the annual MLB draft including five pitchers. In 2006, Georgia returned again to the CWS.

Before coming back to Georgia, Perno was an assistant under Robert Sapp at Middle Georgia Junior College. In 1996, the Warriors posted a 58-9 mark and third place finish at the JUCO World Series. Perno worked with the pitchers and recruiting.

Following his playing career which included one season at Middle Georgia and three at the University of Georgia, Perno served as an assistant coach at Marshall University for three years. While at Marshall, he received his master's degree in Athletic and Health Education. From 1992-1996, Perno coached the Cortland (N.Y.) Apples in the Northeastern Collegiate Summer League.

Perno, played for Sapp at Middle Georgia in 1987 as the Warriors went 42-6 en route to a third place finish in the state. Perno transferred to the University of Georgia in 1988 where he played his final three seasons in various roles and was a member of the national championship team in 1990. He graduated from Georgia in 1991 with a degree in Marketing Education.

A 1986 graduate of Clarke Central, Perno lettered in baseball and football and was an All-State selection as a senior. He played running back on the 1985 football state championship team and also played on the 1985 American Legion state championship team.

Perno is married to the former Melaney Chastain of Athens, Ga. They have two children, Saidee Woodlyn (10) and David Hayes (6).

Big Bulldog Rallies in the Perno Era

As Yogi Berra once said, "it ain't over until it's over." Georgia has had more than 20 memorable comeback wins under head coach David Perno including three from a seven-run deficit and another when the Bulldogs trailed 9-0.

Here's a look at the top four according to the Bulldog coaches and players.

June 6, 2004
Georgia Storms Past #22 Clemson 7-6 To Win NCAA Regional

ATHENS: Clemson forced another game to decide the regional title when it rallied back from a 9-2 deficit in the fifth inning to defeat Georgia 10-9. After a 45-minute break between games, Clemson jumped ahead 4-0 by the second inning and carried a 6-4 lead to the ninth as the home team. In the bottom of the eighth, Coach Perno was ejected for arguing balls and strikes. The crowd and the Bulldogs seemed to be energized by Perno's actions.

Bobby Felmy led off the ninth by hitting the first pitch over the fence for a solo home run. Then, Jason Jacobs followed with another blast to tie the game at 6-6. Clint Sammons smashed a solo shot in the 10th to give the Bulldogs a 7-6 lead. Will Startup blanked the Tigers over the last 3.2 innings including two strikeouts with runners on in the bottom of the 10th to push the Bulldogs in to a Super Regional!

The next day, Tiger coach Jack Leggett called Perno and said looking back it was one of the greatest days of competition he had been a part of in his career. Also, he wished the Bulldogs continued success in the post season.

May 26, 2006
Georgia Wins Slugest Over South Carolina 16-10

BIRMINGHAM: In one of the all-time great comebacks in school history, ninth-ranked Georgia overcame an early 9-0 deficit to power past USC 16-10 in an SEC Tournament elimination game. The Bulldogs trailed 9-0 in the second and then freshman Trevor Holder, senior Rip Warren and junior Joshua Fields combined to cool off the USC bats.

For the second day in a row, Georgia pounded out 16 runs on 22 hits in a game that lasted exactly 3:42. Georgia cut it to 9-5 in the third and 9-8 by the fourth before taking the lead for good in the fifth when Joey Side smashed a two-run home run to dead center off Gamecock closer Wynn Pelzer.

Along with Side, Jonathan Wyatt, Gordon Beckham and Kyle Keen drove in two runs apiece while senior Jason Jacobs went 3-for-5 with four RBI.

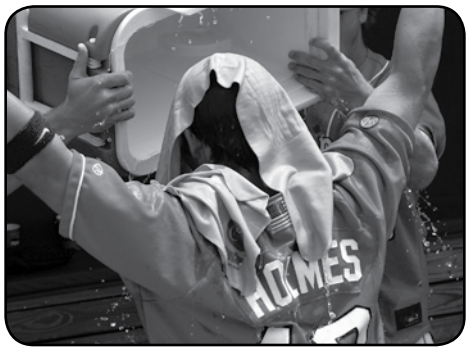
May 11, 2003
Georgia Outlasts #14 Miss. State 8-7

ATHENS: Georgia trailed 7-0 going to the sixth and did not have a hit. They chipped away with one run in the sixth and two in the seventh, eighth and ninth to force extra innings.

The four runs over the final two frames all came with two outs, highlighted by a two-run double by Justin McClain, an RBI-double by Josh Smith and a run-scoring single by David Coffey to tie it at 7-7.

Then in the 14th, MSU pushed one run across only to see the Bulldogs answer with a double by Jon Armitage and eventually a sacrifice fly by McClain. In the 15th, Justin Holmes led off with a double and after a walk to Smith, Coffey drilled a base hit to left field for the game-winner!

The game took 4:41 and was the second longest in school history!



April 28, 2002
Georgia Avoids Gator Sweep

GAINESVILLE, FLA: Along with getting no-hit by Keith Ramsey until one out in the seventh, Georgia was staring at a series sweep by the 12th-ranked Gators. Adam Swann was the lone Bulldog to reach base through the first eight frames, drawing a walk in the fourth and breaking up the no-hitter with a one-out single in the seventh.

Trailing 4-0 in the ninth, the Bulldogs rallied for six runs on five hits and two Florida errors.

Jon Armitage started the rally with a leadoff single. Matt Cavender spoiled the shutout with a two-run single. Lee Mitchell tied the game with another two-run single. Clint Sammons provided the go-ahead run-scoring single.

Then, Jeffrey Carswell and the Bulldogs retired the Gators in the ninth for a 6-4 win!

Jason Eller enters his eighth season on the staff at the University of Georgia including his fourth as an assistant coach/recruiting coordinator.

A native of Marietta, Ga., he has helped Georgia to three College World Series (CWS) appearances since 2004. Also, he has set a new standard in Bulldog recruiting with 22 members getting selected in the past three Major League Baseball (MLB) drafts.

A record eight signees were drafted in 2007 and 2008 while six were selected in 2009. In the 2007 MLB draft, the eight selections were highlighted by first round pick Ben Revere who opted to turn professional and five others going in the first 18 rounds. Ultimately, four of those Bulldogs made it to Athens. In 2008, Georgia had eight more members of its recruiting class selected by Major League clubs. Also, the 2008 class featured six members among Baseball America's Top 100 High School Prospects, which tied for the most by any school during the early signing period. In 2009, four of the six signees that were drafted decided to come to UGA.

Eller's duties on the field include working with the outfielders and hitters. He has served as a first base coach and third base coach. In 2003, Eller came to Georgia as a volunteer coach and was promoted to a full-time assistant in August of 2006.

Eller helped Georgia hitters set a school record and SEC-best 109 home runs in 2009 as the Bulldogs made their second consecutive appearance in the NCAA Tournament. It was the first time Georgia made back-to-back trips to the NCAA postseason since 2001-02. Georgia's 2008 recruiting class was ranked fifth nationally by Collegiate Baseball, and the group combined to start 226 games for Georgia in 2009.

Eller helped guide the SEC Champion Bulldogs to within a victory of the 2008 national championship. Georgia captured another NCAA Athens Regional and Super Regional, and then the Bulldogs reached the CWS Finals. Georgia earned a consensus final national ranking of number two, marking the second best finish in school history. Georgia's offense in 2008 set school records for Hits, Total Bases, At Bats and tied the mark for Games Played.

His work with the outfielders and hitters helped Georgia to a third place finish at the 2004 CWS, a share of the SEC title, a record of 45-23 and final national ranking of fourth in the country. Also, the Bulldog defense posted a .971 fielding percentage which ranked the second best in school history. The 2003 squad set the school record with a .972 fielding percentage. One of Eller's top newcomers in 2004 was Joey Side who earned Freshman All-America honors by Collegiate Baseball and was named to the SEC All-Freshman Team.

By 2006, Side earned All-America and All-SEC honors and was a sixth round draft pick of the Arizona Diamondbacks. The 2006 outfield, which helped carry the Bulldogs back to the CWS, was arguably Georgia's greatest ever. They set a school record for putouts and assists. Along with Side, senior outfielder Bobby Felmy and Kyle Keen earned an opportunity to play professional baseball while junior Jonathan Wyatt led the team in batting and anchored the 2007 outfield. Wyatt capped his final year with an SEC-best perfect fielding percentage in 164 total chances. He was one of three outfielders nationally to earn a Rawlings Gold Glove Award. Wyatt was a 13th round draft pick of the Chicago Cubs in 2007.

Eller came to the Bulldogs from Georgia State where he spent the 2002 season as an assistant on Mike Hurst's staff. Eller served as hitting instructor, worked with the outfielders and was the team's strength training coordinator. Also, Eller was a part of the East Cobb baseball program. He was the manager of the 2003 Perfect Game Junior Division champion East Cobb Braves. He served as manager of the 18 and under CABA World Series championship East Cobb Tigers squad in 2001 and assistant coach of the 2000 team that won the CABA World Series. He has worked as an instructor at various summer baseball camps including at Georgia, Florida State, Griffey International and the Bucky Dent Baseball School.

He is a 1998 graduate of Georgia State with a degree in sociology. He was a four-year letterman for the Panther baseball team from 1992-95 and served as a student assistant in 1996. A former first baseman/outfielder, he was named GSU's most improved player in 1995. He still holds the school record with 17 putouts in a game. He spent a couple of years in Africa and Ecuador playing for Athletes-in-Action as well one year in the Big South Independent League for the Tennessee Walkers before beginning his coaching career full-time.

In 1998, he was as an assistant manager for the New Jersey Diamonds of the Ladies Professional Baseball League before heading to Martin Methodist College in Pulaski, Tenn., where he was an assistant on Jeff Dodson's staff. The 2000 squad posted a school record 42-16 mark including 20-7 in the TranSouth Athletic Conference. They finished the year ranked 19th in the final NAIA ratings.

Eller spent the 2001 season as an assistant at Wofford College under Steve Traylor where the Terriers posted their highest victory total in seven years of Division One play and tied the mark for most wins since 1992. His primary responsibilities included working with the hitters, assistant pitching coach, first base coach and recruiting in the state of Georgia.

Brady Wiederhold

Assistant Coach
Pitching
Fourth Season
(Kennesaw St. '94)

CWS: 2003, '04, '08
SEC Champions: 2003, '04, '08

A veteran of the post season, Brady Wiederhold has been a part of staffs that have advanced to the Division I College World Series three times and the Division II College World Series four times. In his third year at Georgia in 2009, he helped guide the Bulldogs to their second consecutive appearance in the NCAA Tournament after finishing as the SEC Champion and CWS Finalist in 2008.

As the Bulldog pitching coach, Wiederhold's 2009 staff finished in the top half of the SEC in ERA, opponent's batting average and fewest home runs allowed. Wiederhold's work with the pitchers saw six members selected in the 2009 Major League Baseball annual draft including Trevor Holder in the third round and Dean Weaver in the seventh round.

In his second year at Georgia, he helped guide the 2008 Bulldogs to within a victory of the national championship. Georgia reached the CWS Finals and earned a consensus final national ranking of number two.Wiederhold's work with the 2008 Southeastern Conference champion Bulldog pitching staff saw four members drafted. All-American Joshua Fields went in the first round, 20th overall, and the SEC rotation of Holder, Stephen Dodson and Nathan Moreau were picked by the 11th round. Fields and Dodson improved their status from 2007 while Holder and Moreau were first-time selections. Also, senior Nick Montgomery signed a free agent contract.

In 2008, Fields returned for his senior season and captured the National Stopper of the Year Award as the nation's top closer. He led the NCAA with 18 saves and was named the SEC Pitcher of the Year by the league coaches. Holder and Dodson earned second team All-SEC honors.The duo along with Moreau combined to make every SEC start in helping Georgia set a school record with a 20-9-1 SEC mark. Also, the Bulldog pitching staff set school records with 634 innings pitched, 19 saves and 71 starts. Georgia had a 12-game SEC stretch when the bullpen pitched 40 consecutive innings without allowing an earned run.

In 2007, Widerhold inherited the second youngest pitching staff in the SEC as freshmen combined for 86 appearances. In 2008, the sophomore class led by Alex McRee and Dean Weaver showed tremendous improvement. After combining to go 3-7 as freshmen, the duo posted a combined 13-2 mark.

Before coming to Georgia, Wiederhold spent four seasons at LSU. In 2002, Wiederhold served as an administrative assistant on Smoke Laval's Tiger staff before being promoted to pitching coach in 2003. The Tigers advanced to the College World Series in 2003 and 2004. In his first season as the pitching coach with the Tigers, LSU won the SEC and led the league with 515 strikeouts. The pitching staff featured four major league draft selections that year (Billy Sadler, Brian Wilson, Jake Tompkins and Bo Pettit) plus All-SEC Nate Bumstead and a pair of freshman All-Americans in Jason Determann and Justin Meier. One of the highlights of the 2004 CWS squad was when they tossed three consecutive complete games for the first time in modern-day school history. Lane Mestepey (SEC Tournament), Meier (NCAA Regional opener) and Bumstead (NCAA Regional semifinal) each went the distance. Bumstead won 10 games that year and was drafted by the Detroit Tigers.

In 2004 and 2005, Wiederhold helped develop Clay Dirks who earned freshman All-America and All-SEC honors in his career along with All-American and All-SEC standout Greg Smith. Both hurlers were 10-game winners in 2005 and Smith was a sixth round pick of the Arizona Diamondbacks. In 2006, the LSU pitching staff registered 35 wins despite featuring just two draft picks, two-way player Will Harris going in the ninth round to Colorado and Edgar Ramirez selected in the 36th round by the New York Mets.

Prior to his tenure at LSU, Wiederhold worked two seasons as the pitching coach at Louisiana-Monroe. The Indians advanced to the 2000 NCAA Baton Rouge Regional. The ULM staff ranked among the top 15 nationally in team earned run average (ERA). Also, the staff set the school's single season strikeout mark en route to a school-record 41 wins.

Before heading to ULM, Wiederhold spent four seasons as the pitching coach at his alma mater, the Kennesaw State Owls. During this time, the Owls appeared in four Division II College World Series. They won the national title in 1996 and finished second in 1998 and 1999. The KSU pitching staff led the nation in ERA in 1997 and 1998. Wiederhold began his coaching career as an assistant at Oglethorpe University in 1994. The Stormy Petrels went 46-28 that year and won the Southern Collegiate Athletic Conference Eastern Division title.

Wiederhold was a four-year letterman at KSU from 1990-93. A former catcher, he was named the team's top defensive player as a senior. He earned a bachelor's degree in sports management from KSU in 1994.

A native of Columbus, Ga., Wiederhold has two children, Dalton, 8, and Daira, 6.

Justin Holmes

Volunteer Coach

Third Season

(Georgia '05)

CWS: 2004, '08

SEC Champions: 2004, '08

Justin Holmes enters his third year as a volunteer coach on the University of Georgia baseball staff. In his first year, he was part of an SEC Championship team that finished second at the College World Series. In 2009, the Bulldogs returned to the NCAA Baseball Tournament, marking the first back-to-back trips for the program since 2001-02.

A native of Oviedo, Fla., Holmes spent four years playing professional baseball before returning to Georgia to begin his coaching career. He holds the Bulldog record for best career fielding percentage by a shortstop at .951. He works with the infielders and serves as the first base coach.

Holmes was a three-year starter for the Bulldogs including Co-MVP of the 2004 squad that finished third at the College World Series with a 45-23 record. He earned second team All-SEC honors as a senior captain. He batted a team-best .332 with eight home runs and 56 RBI in leading the Bulldogs to the 2004 SEC title.

As a junior, he hit .301-1-16 and ranked second among SEC shortstops with a .971 Fielding Percentage. For his career, Holmes hit .319 with nine home runs, 94 RBI and 34 stolen bases.

Holmes was a 26th round draft pick of the Cleveland Indians in 2004. He played in the Indians organization for two years, spending time in Burlington, N.C. in the Appalachian League, and Eastlake, Ohio for Lake County in the South Atlantic League. Also, he played for the Traverse City (Mich.) Beach Bums of the independent Frontier League. Holmes was a two-time All-Star selection for the Bums.

Holmes began his collegiate career at the University of South Florida, playing one season with the Bulls before transferring to Georgia in 2002. He is a 2005 graduate of UGA with a degree in Classical Culture. He is married to the former Elizabeth Newsome of Washington, Ga. She is a 2008 graduate of the UGA veterinary school. She was a member of Georgia's 2003 and 2004 national championship equestrian teams.

Kris Edge

Director of Baseball Operations

First Season

(Georgia '02)

CWS: 2001

SEC Champions: 2001

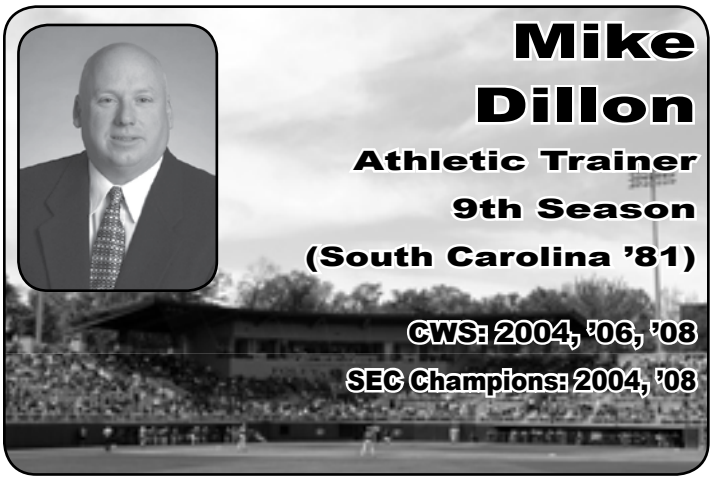
Kris Edge, a four-year starting outfielder for Georgia from 1999-2002, begins his first season back with the Bulldogs as the director of baseball operations. Edge, 29, will handle alumni relations and camps plus he will assist in various administrative duties.

Edge spent the past two years as an assistant coach/recruiting coordinator at Middle Georgia Junior College. He helped the Warriors to a pair of playoff appearances including a 44-20 mark in 2009 and the Junior College World Series. Before his stint at Middle Georgia, Edge managed and was an instructor for the Savannah Chain, a summer league 18 and under traveling baseball squad.

A native of Savannah, Ga., Edge was a member of the 2001 Southeastern Conference championship team that advanced to the College World Series. It was Georgia's first CWS appearance since 1990 and the first league title since 1954. The 2001 team posted a 47-22 record including 20-10 in the SEC. Then in 2002, he was a part of Coach David Perno's first team, and they reached the finals of the NCAA Atlanta Regional. It was the first time in school history that Georgia had made back-to-back trips to the NCAAs.

A patient hitter in his playing days, Edge still holds the Georgia career record for walks with 157. He ranks among the top 10 in school history with 209 games played including 144 starts. He batted a career-best .320 as a senior. He earned a bachelor's degree in health education from UGA.

Edge is married to the former Brooke Ogletree of Villa Rica, Ga. They have two children, Kameron (5) and Aubrey (3).



Associate athletic trainer Mike Dillon enters his ninth consecutive year with the Bulldog baseball program and 23rd overall with the University of Georgia Athletic Association. His responsibilities include care, prevention, and rehabilitation for the UGA baseball team along with clinical coordinator for the athletic training department.

Dillon has been a part of three of Georgia's College World Series teams including the 2008 squad that finished second. He was named Associate Athletic Trainer in March 1997 after serving as an assistant athletic trainer since 1987. Dillon was named Head Basketball Trainer in 1987 after serving as Head Athletic Trainer, baseball coach, and physical science teacher at Chapin High School, Chapin, S.C.

He received his undergraduate degree from the University of South Carolina, and his Master of Arts at the University of Alabama. He is the past president of the South Carolina Athletic Trainers Association and the Georgia Athletic Trainers Association. He is a member of the Olympic Sports medicine Society. His experience also includes working at the United States Olympic-Training Center in Colorado Springs and as an athletic trainer for soccer in the 1996 Summer Olympic Games.

Dillon is also a certified strength and conditioning specialist, instructor in first aid and CPR, and an athletic training and emergency care instructor, and an EMT - intermediate. Mike also serves as an adjunct instructor in the Department of Exercise Science. He received the Southeast Athletic Trainers Association Backbone award in March 1998. Mike has co - authored numerous journal articles and published book chapters. Mike has also lectured throughout the United States and Japan. Mike is also a guest reviewer for the Journal of Athletic training in the areas of emergency medicine and rehabilitation.

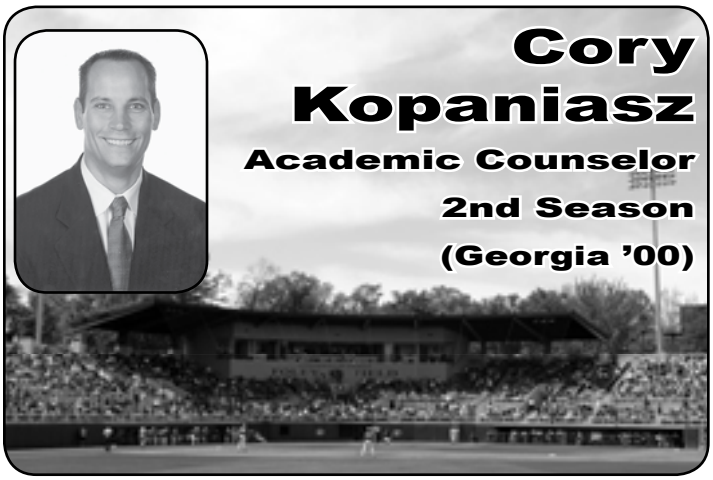
Dillon is married to the former Ouida Moore from Cheraw, S.C., and they have one daughter, Hannah Jean.

Jeremy Heffner, Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach for Olympic Sports, enters his fifth season working with the baseball program. He has been a part of two Bulldog squads that advanced to the College World Series and two while at the University of Texas including the 2005 national champions.

Heffner is a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA), the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association (CSCCa), and USA Weightlifting. He is a Certified Strength and Conditioning Specialist (NSCA), Strength and Conditioning Coach Certified (CSCCa), and a Level I Club Coach (USAW). At Georgia, Heffner serves as the strength and conditioning coach for baseball, women's tennis, and men's and women's swimming and diving.

Heffner started at the University of Georgia in July of 2005. A 2002 University of North Texas graduate, he earned a bachelor of science degree in Kinesiology. A native of Fort Worth, Texas, he went to The University of Texas where he received a Master of Education in Exercise Physiology with an emphasis in Sport Science and Nutrition. While at UT, he served as a graduate strength and conditioning Coach, where he was a member of the 2005 Rose Bowl Champion football team, 2004 College World Series runner up, and 2005 National Champion Baseball Team.

After leaving The University of Texas, Jeremy served as a Strength and Conditioning Coach for the Houston Astros Triple AAA affiliate Round Rock Express (Round Rock,Texas).



Academic counselor Cory Kopaniasz is in his 10th year with the Academic Counseling here at the University of Georgia including his second season with the baseball program. As the team's counselor, Kopaniasz assists the Bulldogs in a variety of academic issues, including classroom performance, progression toward degrees, arranging of tutors and mentors, and the improvement of their study skills and strategies. Also, he currently advises the men's basketball and women's gymnastics teams.

He first joined the Athletic Association in January of 1999 and became a full-time employee in July of 2000 as a member of the academic counseling staff. He had served as the academic center's intern and graduate assistant before taking over full-time duties. He received his bachelor's degree in Economics from UGA in 2000, and in 2002, he earned his Master's degree in Sport Studies from Georgia.

Kopaniasz served as Associate Director for Academic Support at the University of Mississippi from January until June of 2008 before returning to his alma mater. Kopaniasz is married to the former Candace Waters of Watkinsville, Ga., and they have one son, 7-year-old Caden.

Christopher Lakos, Associate Director of Sports Communications, enters his 17th season working with the baseball program. He has been a part of four Bulldog teams that have advanced to the College World Series. Also, he works and travels with the nationally-ranked football and tennis programs. He has served as the host media director for five NCAA Tennis Championships, four NCAA Baseball Regionals, three NCAA Baseball Super Regionals and staffed 14 bowl games for the Bulldogs.

A native of Sanford, N.C., Lakos earned a journalism degree from UGA and completed 30 hours of postgraduate work at the University of Louisiana-Lafayette.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL™

A total of 11 current Bulldogs have been drafted by a Major League club including pitcher Jeff Walters who has been selected four times since high school. Most recently, he was a 17th round pick by Baltimore in 2009.

In 2009, Georgia led the country with 11 players drafted and Walters was one of three Bulldog pitchers who opted to return for their senior season. The highest Bulldog to get drafted and sign was junior first baseman Rich Poythress. As a second round pick, Poythress received around a $700,000 bonus from the Seattle Mariners.

In 2008, eight Bulldogs had an opportunity to sign a professional contract including a pair of first round picks in Gordon Beckham (SS) and Joshua Fields (RHP). Beckham was the eighth overall selection and earned a $2.6 million signing bonus from the Chicago White Sox. Fields was the 20th overall pick and the Mariners signed him for $1.75 million.

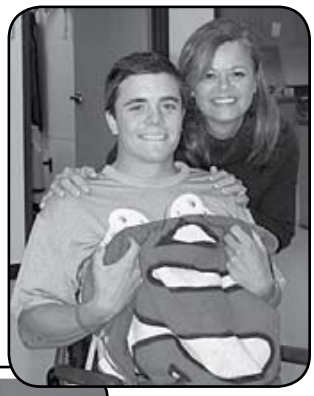
Shortly after leaving a study session on campus at the Miller Learning Center on Oct. 28, Chance Veazey's life changed forever. He was involved in a scooter accident and suffered a spinal cord injury. Currently, he has paralysis from the waist down.

After a week at St. Mary's Hospital in Athens, he moved to the Shepherd Center in Atlanta for an intense six-week rehabilitation program. At Shepherd, Veazey earned the "Superman" towel, which for 10 years has been passed down among the patients who are working the hardest and graduate from the program. His rehabilitation continues, and his attitude and effort to return to his life inspires everyone who meets him.

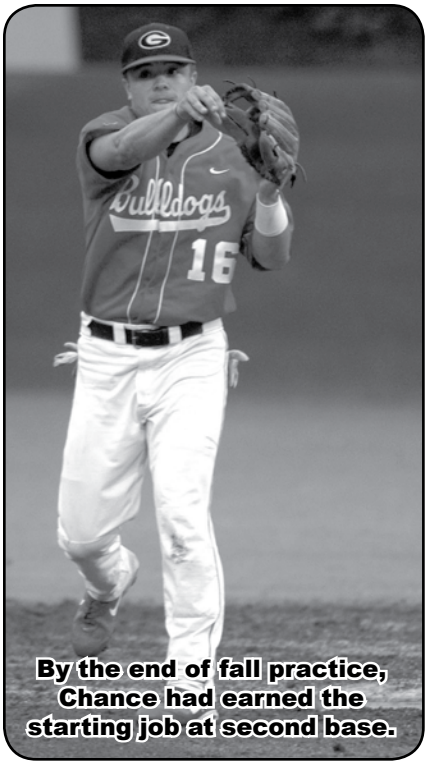


Along with his passion for baseball, Chance is an avid outdoorsman. During the Thanksgiving holiday, he got to hunt on land owned by professional baseball players Ryan Klesko and John Smoltz. Chance bagged an 11-point buck, the biggest deer he had ever killed.

Support for Chance has come from all around the country including the Bulldog nation and his hometown of Tifton. Thousands of people have followed Chance's story online at Caringbridge.org.

He plans to return to UGA some this spring and then full-time next fall.

Chance will continue his education, his training regimen with athletic trainer Mike Dillon and work with the baseball program.



By the end of fall practice, Chance had earned the starting job at second base.

In the last fall scrimmage, Chance had three hits including a home run in his final at-bat.

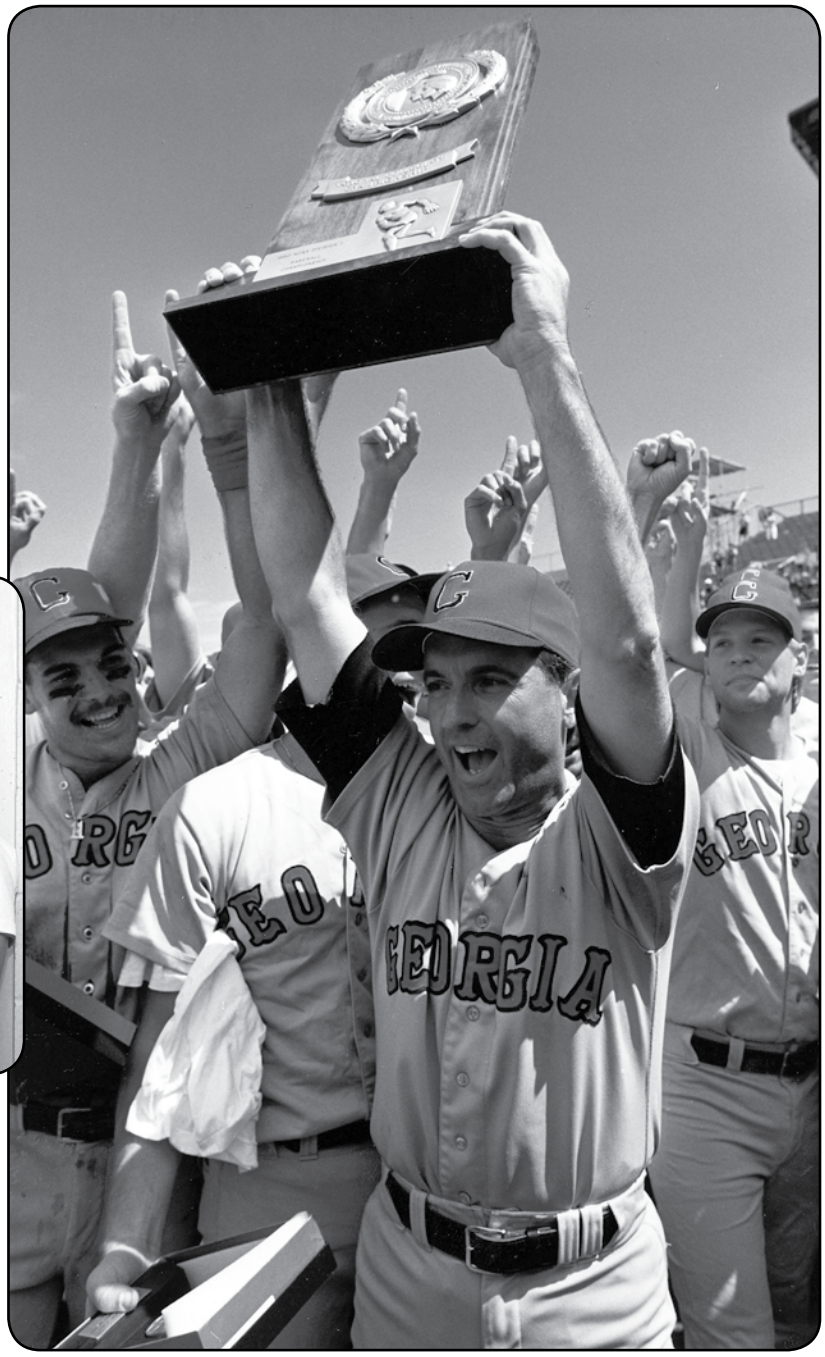
Spacious Foley Field requires outfielders like Zach Cone who can track down a flyball.

The 2010 season marks the 20th anniversary of Georgia's 1990 NCAA title.

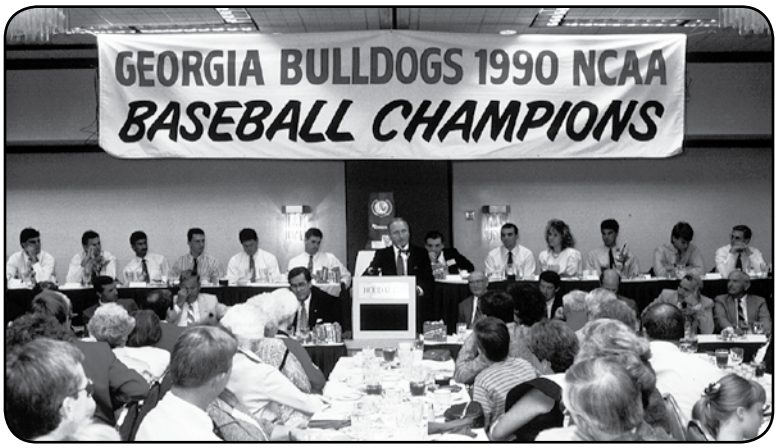
Georgia's first trip to Omaha for the CWS came in 1987. Just three years later, the Bulldogs were back, and this time they came home with an NCAA title.

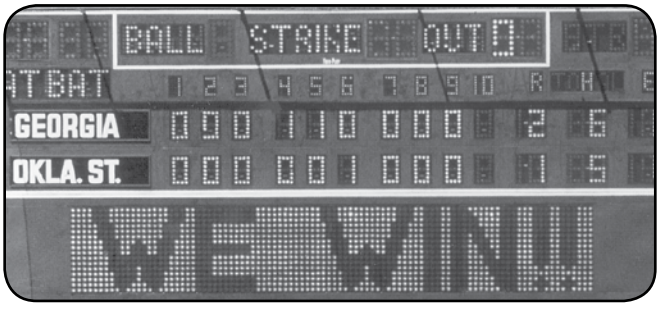
The Bulldogs were the first SEC team to win the College World Series.

The 1990 team featured two Freshman All-Americans in pitcher Stan Payne and outfielder Ray Suplee. Payne got the start in the title game and earned the win over Oklahoma State.



Coach Steve Webber's Bulldogs are NCAA Champions after a 2-1 win over OSU.





Once back in Athens, the Bulldogs were honored with a coronation at a local hotel.

In the program's sixth trip to the Omaha, the 2008 Bulldogs advanced to the CWS Finals.

6 SEC Titles: 1933, 1953, 1954, 2001, 2004, 2008

Bulldogs Use Fast Start To Rise to #1 Ranking During Season, End Up 38-24 and #25 in ESPN/USA Today Coaches Poll

It was a record-setting season for the Georgia baseball team in 2009. The Bulldogs got off to the best start in program history, broke the school home run record, shattered Foley Field attendance records and led the country with a school record 11 players selected in the Major League Baseball Draft.

Georgia won its first 14 games in 2009 including a three-game sweep at Arizona. On March 9, unbeaten Georgia was ranked No. 1 in the regular season for the first time in school history and the Bulldogs were ranked No. 1 five different weeks throughout the year. The Bulldogs endured their first setback with a series loss at Alabama to open SEC play, but rebounded with sweeps over Mississippi State and Tennessee the next two weekends to set up a No. 1 vs. No. 2 showdown with LSU at Foley Field. The Tigers came back to win game three and claim the series, but Georgia bounced back with a road sweep at Kentucky, then took two from fifth-ranked Arkansas to gain sole possession of first place in the SEC with four series to play.

Georgia stumbled down the stretch but still advanced to the NCAA Tournament for the 10th time in school history. In annual non-conference tilts, Georgia swept No. 17 Clemson and split two games against Georgia Tech. The Bulldogs beat the Jackets at Turner Field for the fifth straight year.

With 45 wins in 2008 and 38 in 2009, Georgia has won 83 games in the last two seasons, the program's second highest win total in consecutive years. The Bulldogs have also won 35 SEC games in the last two seasons, which is tied for the most league wins in consecutive years in Georgia baseball history.

GEORGIA IN THE 2009 POSTSEASON

The Bulldogs won their first two games in the SEC Tournament, beating No. 7 Ole Miss and College World Series participant Arkansas before being eliminated by eventual national champion LSU to finish in a tie for third.

After Georgia played host to a regional in 2008, the Bulldogs made their first back-to-back appearances in a regional since the 2001-02 seasons as the No. 2 seed in the NCAA Tallahassee Regional. After a 24-8 romp over No. 3 seed Ohio State in the opener, Georgia fell to Florida State then had its season end with a loss to the Buckeyes.

The Bulldogs, who finished the season with a 38-24 overall record and a 15-15 mark in league play, made their fifth NCAA postseason appearance under David Perno, more than any other coach in program history.

HUGE CROWDS FLOCK TO FOLEY FIELD

For the second straight year, Georgia set school records for total attendance and average attendance at Foley Field. A total of 93,360 fans were in attendance for 32 home dates for an average of 2,917 fans per game.

The 2009 Bulldogs attracted five of the top 10 largest crowds in Foley Field history including the largest crowd of 4,461 for a 4-0 win over No. 25 Mississippi State on March 21.

The Bulldogs often entertained the fans with a power display, smashing a record 109 home runs in 2009, breaking the mark of 105 set by the 1987 team. Georgia entered the 2009 season averaging 63 home runs per season under Perno. Junior All-American first baseman Rich Poythress accounted for a team-best 25 home runs, a school record 86 RBI and hit .376. Senior catcher/designated hitter Bryce Massanari and junior catcher/DH Joey Lewis hit 19 home runs apiece.

FANTASTIC FRESHMEN

Georgia had five freshmen in the Opening Day lineup with Colby May emerging as one of the team's top hitters. He started all 62 games at third base and earned Freshman All-America honors after batting .339-11-42. Levi Hyams registered a school record .962 fielding percentage at shortstop while Zach Cone hit a team-best .417 in the postseason. Cecil Tanner and Michael Palazzone solidified the bullpen.

GEORGIA LED THE NATION WITH 11 PLAYERS DRAFTED IN 2009

Academic All-Americans
(voted on by *CoSIDA)

To be eligible to become a member of the ESPN Magazine Academic All-America team, a college scholar-athlete must be nominated by his sports information director, hold a minimum of 3.20 cumulative GPA on a 4.0 scale, be a starter or key reserve on the varsity and reached sophomore athletic and academic standing. There are eight geographic districts across the country. Scholar-athletes must be first named to the All-District team and then they will be placed on the national ballot for consideration to determine the national Academic All-America Team.

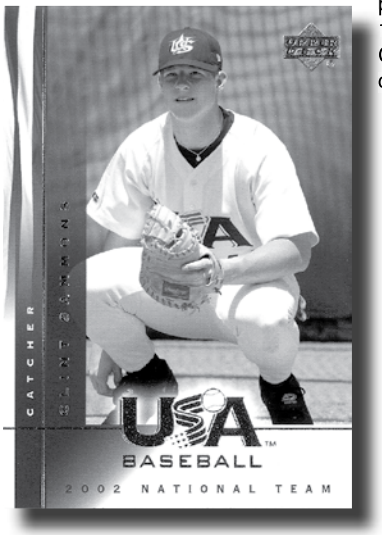
USA BASEBALL TEAM

USA Baseball, based in Durham, N.C., is the national governing body of amateur baseball in the United States and a member of the United States Olympic Committee (USOC). The organization selects, trains, and supports the USA Baseball Team and the USA Baseball Junior Team which participates in international competitions, including the Olympic Games and World Championships.

While the first official exhibition baseball game in the Olympics was a 1912 contest in Stockholm, Sweden, reports exist that an unrecognized baseball game was played at the 1904 Games in St. Louis, Mo. A number of single game exhibitions were also played at the 1936, 1952, 1956, and 1964 Olympic Games. The 1992 Games in Barcelona was the debut of baseball as a medal sport.



Bulldog catcher Clint Sammons was a part of the 2002 USA Team.

Georgia pitcher Brian Powell was a member of the 1994 USA squad that had six SEC players.

OLYMPIC TEAM

1936 Henry Wagnon, C (Bostwick, Ga.)

Wagnon was one of 22 delegates to the International Sports Congress whose members demonstrated American Games to other nations in Berlin. Although other countries had planned to send teams for the baseball tournament, none of them did. So, the USA squad split into two teams and played a night game before a world-record crowd reported to be over 125,000. The World Amateurs defeated the USA Olympics 6-5.

2004 SEC: 19-11 Overall: 45-23
Shared title with Arkansas (same win%); Advanced to CWS (T3rd)
2008 SEC: 20-9-1 Overall: 45-25-1
Highest conference winning percentage; Advanced to CWS Finals (2nd)

Note: In 1987, Georgia finished the regular season with the best SEC mark at 18-8 but the SEC title went to league tournament winner Miss. State. MSU went 4-0 in the tournament after going 13-13 during the year. Starting in 1988, the SEC title went to the regular season champion and the tournament winner received the league's automatic NCAA bid.

Note: Georgia has won five SEC Eastern Division titles (1955, 1975, 2001, 2004 and 2008). The SEC Championship format has varied since the incepetion of the league in 1933. Some years, the SEC has had divisions. In 1977, the league began holding an SEC Tournament following the regular season.

THIS IS SEC BASEBALL

The Southeastern Conference, with its storied 76-year history of athletic achievements and academic excellence, has built perhaps the greatest tradition of intercollegiate competition of any league in the country since its inception in 1933. The SEC posted another tremendous season in 2009 as the conference had eight teams earn NCAA postseason bids. LSU and Arkansa advanced to the 2009 College World Series, and the Tigers claimed their sixth national title. An SEC squad has now appeared in the CWS 24 of the last 25 years. LSU and Ole Miss shared the SEC title with a 20-10 conference record and the Tigers claimed the SEC Tournament crown too.

"Pack the Parks"

Year after year, the SEC continues to be the benchmark in college baseball attendance.The SEC drew 1,885,171 fans in 2009. The SEC and its member schools own virtually all regular season, conference tournament, NCAA Regional and Super Regional attendance records. The SEC has led all conferences in total and average attendance for the past 13 seasons.

The MLB Draft

In 2009, 40 former SEC players were listed on MLB opening day 25-man rosters.

Four SEC players were taken in the first round of the 2009 MLB Amateur Draft

With those eight selections, the SEC has now had a first round pick in each year since 1991 and 80 total in the first round during that time.

The SEC At The College World Series

The SEC has sent 38 teams to the College World Series since 1990. Nine of its 12 schools have been to the CWS in that span, winning seven titles.

Georgia won the first baseball national title for the SEC in 1990 while LSU has collected six titles since then in Omaha. There have been four runner-up finishes including Georgia in 2008.

Did You Know?

Since 1990, 130 SEC squads have been invited to the NCAA Tournament, an average of over six per season. The SEC set an NCAA record in 2004, 2005 and 2008 with nine teams earning postseason trips. The SEC also had an NCAA record five teams earn regional host sites in 2004 and 2005.

The SEC boasts 11 former National Players of the Year, nine Baseball America Coach of the Year (Georgia's David Perno won it in 2004) and seven Collegiate Baseball Coach of the Year honors. Georgia's Joshua Fields was named the NCBWA Stopper of the Year as the top closer.

The SEC has sent nine of its 12 schools to the College World Series since 1990, the most squads from a conference to appear in Omaha since that time.

In 2008, Georgia became the first school to sweep the following SEC honors in the same season: Player of the Year (Gordon Beckham), Pitcher of the Year (Joshua Fields), Scholar Athlete of the Year (Gordon Beckham) and Coach of the Year (David Perno).

SEC ACADEMIC HONOR ROLL (1984-2009)

In 1984, the SEC developed the Academic Baseball Honor Roll. The new format was adopted to recognize those athletes who had a 3.0 grade point average (either cumulative or during the past year), and had 24 semester or 26 quarter hours countable toward a degree. Prior to the 1996-97 season, the SEC dropped the requirement of earning a letter for that season. Starting in 2002, the recipients were chosen from the previous calendar year.

2010 SEC Tournament

May 26-30, Regions Park, Hoover, Ala. (10,800)

Dimensions: 340 Foul Lines, 385 Power Alleys, 405 to CF

For the 13th straight year, Regions Park in the Birmingham suburb of Hoover, Ala., will serve as the site of the SEC Tournament.

In May of 2006, it was announced that the annual event will remain in the city through the year 2011. When the patio, banquet and side grassy areas are used, capacity can grow up to 16,000. Wireless internet access was added in 2004 and concourse and signage renovation were done in 2005. A second-level pressbox expansion, new seating and an exterior facelit were part of a $4.5 million project completed in 2007.

The format is an eight-team double elimination tournament that is modeled after the College World Series. The tournament field includes the top two teams from the SEC's Eastern and Western Divisions plus four at-large bids based on conference winning percentage. The eight teams are seeded 1-8 with the two divisional champions guaranteed the top two seeds. Regions Park serves as home of the Double-A Birmingham Barons (Chicago White Sox) of the Southern League.

Georgia History At the SEC Tournament

Record: 25-36 in 18 appearances; Best Finish: 2nd (1985, 1986, 1989)

Did You Know?

The first two times that Georgia went 0-2 at the SECs (1987 & 1990), they advanced to the College World Series. They did it again in 2008.

Georgia catcher Roger Miller was the 1989 Tournament MVP, and he is one of only four players to earn this honor and have his team not win the league title.

In 2000, Georgia did not post a shutout until the tournament when it blanked Miss. State 5-0 in an elimination game. For then Georgia coach Ron Polk, it marked the first time he faced his former club, one he coached for 22 seasons before turning the program over to Pat McMahon at the end of the 1997 season.

In 2004, Georgia scored one run in three games and went 1-2. The Bulldogs were blanked 6-0 by Vanderbilt's first round draft pick Jeremy Sowers on a three-hitter, then rebounded to beat #3 LSU 1-0 on a combined four-hitter (Sean Ruthven and Will Startup) and then were eliminated by #21 Florida 6-0.

In 2006, Georgia won two straight elimination games by a score of 16-10 that lasted exactly 3:42. First, they routed SEC co-champion Kentucky and then came back from a 9-0 deficit to beat South Carolina. Georgia tied for third, which marked its best finish since 1989.

Bulldog SEC All-Tournament Team Members

Note: From 1978-1992, the SEC held one tournament. From 1993-95, the SEC had divisional tournaments but then returned to one tournament in 1996. Georgia did not qualify for the tournament in 1979-1984, from 1996-1999 and in 2003.

A total of 33 former Bulldogs have reached the Major League level. It began with Claude Derrick for the Philadelphia Athletics in 1909. The latest Bulldog to make it to the majors was Gordon Beckham in 2009. He was one of four Bulldogs to play in the majors last season, joining Mitchell Boggs (St. Louis), Clint Sammons (Atlanta) and Jeff Keppinger (Houston). Beckham was named the 2009 American League Rookie of the Year by the Major League Baseball Players Association and by The Sporting News plus to the Topps Rookie All-Star team.

Derrick played on Connie Mack's World Championship teams in 1910 and 1911 and, while recovering from a broken ankle in Baltimore in 1912, he was the first roommate of a rookie pitcher named George Herman "Babe" Ruth. Nolen Richardson, a Georgia standout in football and basketball in the 1920s, played six years in the majors and returned to coach the Bulldogs in 1951. Johnny Rucker was featured in LIFE as a promising rookie in 1940. While many Bulldogs enjoyed success throughout their career, one who stands out is Spurgeon "Spud" Chandler.

Chandler was a part of seven World Series teams for the New York Yankees, including winners of six championships. Actually, he first played in Yankee Stadium as a member of the Bulldog football team. Georgia defeated New York University 7-6 on Nov. 7, 1931. Following his graduation in 1932, the Carnesville, Ga., native spent five years in the minors before returning to Yankee Stadium as a major leaguer.

In his 11-year career, his finest season came in 1943. He led the league in Wins, Earned Run Average and Complete Games, going 20-4 with a 1.64 ERA and 20 complete games. He went 2-0 with a 0.50 ERA in the 1943 World Series, winning game one and pitching a shutout in the clinching game five over St. Louis.

MLB TRIVIA: Larry Littleton and former St. Louis Cardinal outfielder Michael Potter hold the MLB record for most career at bats by a non-pitcher without a hit. Littleton made the Indians 1981 team out of spring training. He made his debut in game two that season, pinch-hitting in the ninth inning. He grounded out to eventual Hall of Famer Robin Yount. His lone RBI came on a bases-loaded line out off Minnesota's Jerry Koosman that Mickey Hatcher ran down. Most of his at-bats came as a pinch-hitter, and he started just four games over a 45-day span. Still, the Bulldog graduate made it to the top.

BULLDOG TRIO REACHES MAJORS IN 2009

Three former Bulldogs earned promotions to the Major Leagues this past year. Infielder Gordon Beckham made quite a splash with the Chicago White Sox, earning Rookie of the Year honors by the Players Association and The Sporting News, excelling at a new position -- third base. Pitcher Mitchell Boggs returned to the Majors for the second year in a row, seeing extended action with the St. Louis Cardinals including an appearance in the playoffs. Catcher Clint Sammons was called up by the Atlanta Braves for the third time in his career.

Former All-America pitcher Joshua Fields, a 2008 first round pick by Seattle, spent the season in Double-A for the West Tennessee Diamond Jaxx and then was selected by the Mariners to play in the elite Arizona Fall League (AFL). He was named a "Rising Star," pitched in the All-Star game and was a part of the AFL Champion Peoria Javelinas. The AFL is made up of mostly Double-A and Triple-A Minor League players, and it's like a finishing school for prospects close to being ready to make the jump to the Major Leagues.

Six Bulldogs off the 2009 team made their professional debut this past summer including second round pick Rich Poythress who played with Fields at Double-A.

Perno = Omaha

All six Georgia teams that have advanced to the College World Series have featured a Perno. Coach Perno has been with five of the six; as a player in 1990, as an assistant in 2001 and the head coach in 2004, 2006 and 2008.

Perno's older brother, Donn (below), was an All-SEC standout on the hard-hitting 1987 Bulldog squad that made the first trip to the CWS in school history.

Gold Glove Awards

2007: Jonathan Wyatt, OF
2009: Rich Poythress, 1B

Beginning in 2007, the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA) along with Rawlings Sporting Goods began a program where Rawlings Gold Glove Awards were presented to NCAA Division I players. Nomination and voting criteria are the same as the ABCA Rawlings All-Region and All-American Awards, which are collegiate baseball's oldest selections, dating back to 1949. The players and their schools each receive a Rawlings Gold Glove Award.

Georgia outfielder Jonathan Wyatt was one of the nine inaugural recipients in 2007. He led all SEC outfielders with a perfect 1.000 Fielding Percentage in 164 total chances in his final season with the Bulldogs. He was a 13th-round pick of the Chicago Cubs.

Rich Poythress received national recognition for his stellar play at first base for the SEC champion Bulldogs in 2008, earning a Gold Glove Award. He recorded a .995 fielding percentage in 69 starts with a school record 55 assists to go with 535 putouts in helping the team reach the College World Series Finals. Poythress finished his career with a .993 Fielding Percentage (1323 PO, 127 A, 10 E). He was a second round pick of the Seattle Mariners in 2009.

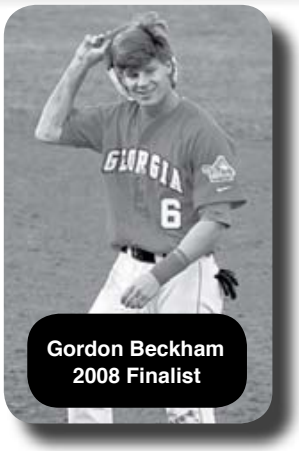
THE GOLDEN SPIKES



Gordon Beckham
2008 Finalist

The Golden Spikes award is given annually to the top amateur baseball player in America. Any exceptional collegiate, high school, youth program and independent amateur baseball players are eligible.

Six former Bulldogs have been nominated for this prestigious honor including first round picks Gordon Beckham and Joshua Fields in 2008 and second round pick Rich Poythress in 2009. Beckham was a finalist for the award while Fields and Poythress were semifinalists. In 1987, not only was it a banner year for the Bulldogs as a team, but also for some individuals. Pitchers Cris Carpenter and Derek Lilliquist were tabbed as nominees for the award. It marked only the second time that two teammates were nominated in the same year. In 1990 former Bulldog pitcher Dave Fleming, who led Georgia to its first-ever national championship, was nominated. The winner of the award goes through a selection process in which a 60-person committee ranks the top nine individuals and then selects a winner based upon exceptional athletic ability, sportsmanship, character, and overall contribution to the sport at any level.

The winner is automatically enshrined in the United States Baseball Federation's Amateur Baseball Hall of Fame. His named is also added to the permanent Golden Spikes Award at the National Baseball Hall of Fame. In addition, the winner also becomes the USBF's nominee for the AAU's Sullivan Award, which goes to the nation's top amateur athlete.

THE BERT KIZER AWARD

The Bert Kizer Award is named annually to the Georgia baseball letterman, who in his first year, displayed exemplory achievement in the combined areas of academics, athletics and citizenship. The award was established during the 1991 season. Bert Kizer was a loyal Georgia Baseball supporter for a number of years. In fact, his two sons, Bubba and Craig, both lettered for the Bulldogs. Bubba was an All-America infielder who recorded a career .346 batting average from 1976-78. Craig lettered in 1981-82 and posted a career pitching record of 6-2.

JIM UMBRICHT AWARD

The Jim Umbricht Award is given annually to the Georgia player considered the "most competitive" by the Bulldog coaching staff. The award is sponsored by former Georgia player Johnny Clifton (1951-53) of Atlanta.

Jim Umbricht was a two-sport great at the University of Georgia in the early 1950s. In 1952, he was named captain of both the Bulldog baseball and basketball teams, playing shortstop and guard, respectively. From Georgia, he went on to a successful professional baseball career. He spent time with the Pittsburgh Pirates and the Houston Colt .45s. He was part of the Pirates World Series Championship team in 1960. In 1963, he was named Major League Baseball's Comeback Player-of-the-Year. He died in 1964 at the age of 33 after a bout with cancer.

MORTON HODGSON: One of the Best Ever

Morton Hodgson (1906-09) not only was a starter for four years in baseball, he lettered in football, basketball and track. He was Georgia's first four-letter athlete. A hometown hero, he hit .333 on the 1908 championship squad that was considered one of the greatest teams ever fielded by the University. The pitching staff was so strong it shut out 12 opponents, six in succession. He was named to Grantland Rice's All-Southern team.

His sons were stellar athletes for the Bulldogs and two of his grandsons lettered in football under Coach Vince Dooley. He is the only Georgia player to have a son and two grandsons letter in football at Georgia.

David Coffey had an inside-the-park grand slam in 2003!

The 1990 season will long be remembered as the finest ever produced at Georgia. Catcher Terry Childers' play in the seventh preserved a 2-1 lead as Stan Payne and Dave Fleming combined to lead the Bulldogs to the national title. Georgia was invited to Washington D.C., to discuss the strategy they used with President George Bush, a baseball letterman in his collegiate days at Yale.

State; Outfield (3): Jeffrey Hammonds, Stanford, Tim Clark, LSU, Jason Rychlick, Citadel; Designated Hitter: Lyle Mouton, LSU;

+1990 CWS MVP: Mike Rebhan, Georgia

+CWS Note: In 1996, the CWS celebrated its 50th anniversary. All-Decade teams were selected by a panel and Rebhan made it for the 1990s. In the series, he beat Stanford's Mike Mussina twice, going 2-0 with a 1.00 ERA and two complete games.

First Season

1886 was the first real season according to living legend Dan Magill who spoke with early lettermen from that period. Baseball is the oldest varsity sport on campus. C.E. Morris was the team captain, leading Georgia to a 2-0 mark in its inaugural season. The wins came against a town team from Athens and a team from Emory College in Oxford, Ga. The game against Emory was played at Union Point.

The ace pitcher of the team was Charles Ed Morris who introduced the curve ball to the South. His catcher was his brother John, who for years headed Georgia's German department and was faculty chairman of athletics. Club teams were in existence at Georgia as early as 1867 according to Georgia historian E. Merton Coulter.

Entering the 2010 season, Georgia's record is 2,016-1,492-23.

First Coach

"Hustlin" Hughie Jennings served as coach beginning in 1895 until 1899. Jennings, a former standout for the Baltimore Orioles who also managed the Detroit Tigers from 1907-20, was one of the first 35 men elected into baseball's Hall of Fame. During Jennings' tenure, scores began to be recorded.

HUGHIE JENNINGS OF BALTIMORE'S FAMOUS OLD ORIOLES, HE WAS ONE OF THE GAME'S MIGHTY MITES. A STAR SHORTSTOP HE WAS A CONSTANT THREAT AT THE PLATE. ONCE HIT .397. PILOTED DETROIT TO THREE CHAMPIONSHIPS.

First Field

Herty Field, named for Charles Herty a Georgia graduate and later a chemistry professor, spearheaded the efforts to redo the school's athletic field as a home to all of its sports. He earned his doctorate at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore and during this time he learned more about a different version of the sport of rugby, referred to as a football. Herty is credited with introducing the sport of football to his alma mater and serving as the first coach. Along with attracting Pop Warner, a former Cornell captain to eventually coach Georgia in football in 1895, he also helped Hughie Jennings become the first baseball coach. Steadman V. Sanford followed Herty as "physical director" and by 1912, a new facility for both baseball and football was built and eventually named Sanford Field.

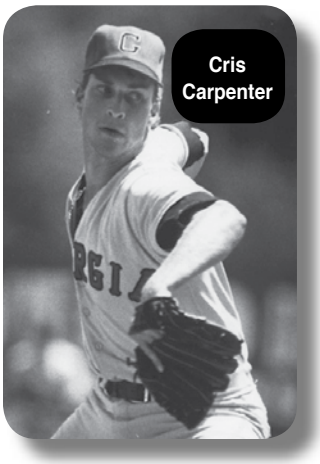
First Championship

In 1908, team captain Frank Martin led UGA to a 20-2 campaign and its first-ever Southern Championship. The team's record of 20 straight wins stands today. The two losses came to professional teams in exhibitions.

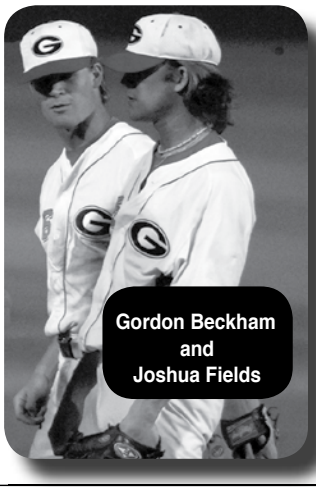
Famed sportswriter Grantland Rice, then sports editor of the Atlanta Journal, called the 1908 team "the greatest baseball team - or any other kind of team - ever assembled in the South." Georgia won its first SEC title in 1933.

First Round Draft Picks

Georgia has had eight first round picks in the annual Major League Baseball Draft: Larry Littleton (1976), Jeff Pyburn (1980), Derek Lilliquist and Cris Carpenter (1987), Kendall Rhine (1992), Brooks Brown (2006), Gordon Beckham (2008) and Joshua Fields (2008).



Cris Carpenter



Gordon Beckham and Joshua Fields

1990 National Champions

Georgia earned the 1990 NCAA crown after defeating Oklahoma State 2-1 in the title game. Also, they made a trip to the White House and met President George Bush. Mike Rebhan was named Most Outstanding Player in the CWS after beating the Stanford Cardinal and Mike Mussina twice.

In 1996 to commemorate the 50th anniversary of the CWS, Rebhan was named to the CWS All-Decade team for the 1990s.

Foley Field

Georgia has played here since 1966. In 1990, the field was renovated at a cost of $3.5 million. The current stadium has a seating capacity of 3,291, and includes indoor and outdoor bullpens, indoor batting cages, a spacious locker room and players lounge, equipment room, and one of the top press facilities in the country. In 2001, Foley Field served as host to an NCAA Regional and Super Regional as the Bulldogs advanced to the College World Series. In 2004, Georgia played host to an NCAA Regional again and ultimately reached the College World Series after winning a Super Regional at Ga. Tech. In 2006 and 2008, Georgia played host to and won regionals and super regionals en route to the CWS.

Largest Crowds

Home: 4,461. On March 21, 2009, third-ranked Georgia blanked 25th-ranked Miss. State 4-0 behind the pitching of Alex McRee, Michael Palazzone, Will Harvil and Dean Weaver who combined to register 14 strikeouts. Joey Lewis and Lyle Allen accounted for all the runs with home runs. Georgia went on to sweep MSU as a record 12,026 attended the three-game series.

Road: 28,836. #15 Ga. Tech beat #12 Georgia 12-5 at Turner Field in Atlanta on May 11, 2004. At the time, it ranked as the second largest crowd to see a college baseball game in NCAA history.

Longest Tenure at the Helm

"Big Jim" Whatley served as the Georgia mentor for 25 seasons (1950, '52-'75), recording 336 wins, second most in Bulldog history. Whatley passed away in May of 2001 at the age of 88.

National Honors

Georgia has had 35 All-Americans in the program's history including most recently Rich Poythress (1B) in 2009, Gordon Beckham (SS) and Joshua Fields (RHP) in 2008.Twice in Bulldog history, Georgia has had a player win National Player/Pitcher/Closer of the Year honors. Outfielder Ron Wenrich was named National Freshman of the Year in 1985. Derek Lilliquist was named National Pitcher of the Year in 1987. Fields was named the National Stopper of the Year in 2008.

Most Successful Major Leaguer

Spurgeon "Spud" Chandler, who pitched for the Bulldogs from 1929-32, went on to play for the New York Yankees from 1937-47. He was a part of seven World Series teams, including six that won championships.

DID YOU KNOW? When New York Yankee great Yogi Berra was called up to the big leagues, the first pitcher he caught was Spud Chandler.

Winningest Coach

Steve Webber, who compiled a 500-403-1 record in 16 seasons (1981-1996). He led the Bulldogs to two College World Series appearances (1987, '90), including a national championship in 1990. In 1987, Georgia finished the regular season with the best SEC record at 18-8. One of Webber's former players, David Perno, has directed the Bulldog program since 2002. After his Georgia coaching career, Webber spent eight seasons in the New York Yankees organization including working as the Coordinator of Minor League Instruction from 2000-03.

In 2010, Webber will begin his seventh season with the San Diego Padres organization. He will serve as the pitching coach for the Padres Triple-A club in Portland, Oregon.

BULLDOG TRIVIA

While C.E. Morris served as the coach for Georgia's first team in 1886, Hughie Jennings is credited with being the Bulldogs' first official coach. He played for 17 years in the Major Leagues while also managing the Detroit Tigers from 1907-20. He was the second shortstop and among the first 35 men elected to the Hall of Fame. Also during this era, former Bulldog Claude Derrick began his career with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1909 and played on two World Championship teams in 1910 and 1911. In 1912 with Baltimore, Derrick was the first roommate of rookie George Herman Ruth, better known as "The Babe."

David Perno was the 2004 National Coach of the Year by Baseball America and named SEC Coach of the Year by the league coaches in 2004 and 2008.

Foley Field

DID YOU KNOW?
Foley Field has played host to numerous post-season events, starting with the 1987 SEC Tournament and continuing today with NCAA Regionals and Super Regionals. Georgia has won every regional and super regional at Foley Field.

NCAA REGIONALS	NCAA SUPER REGIONALS

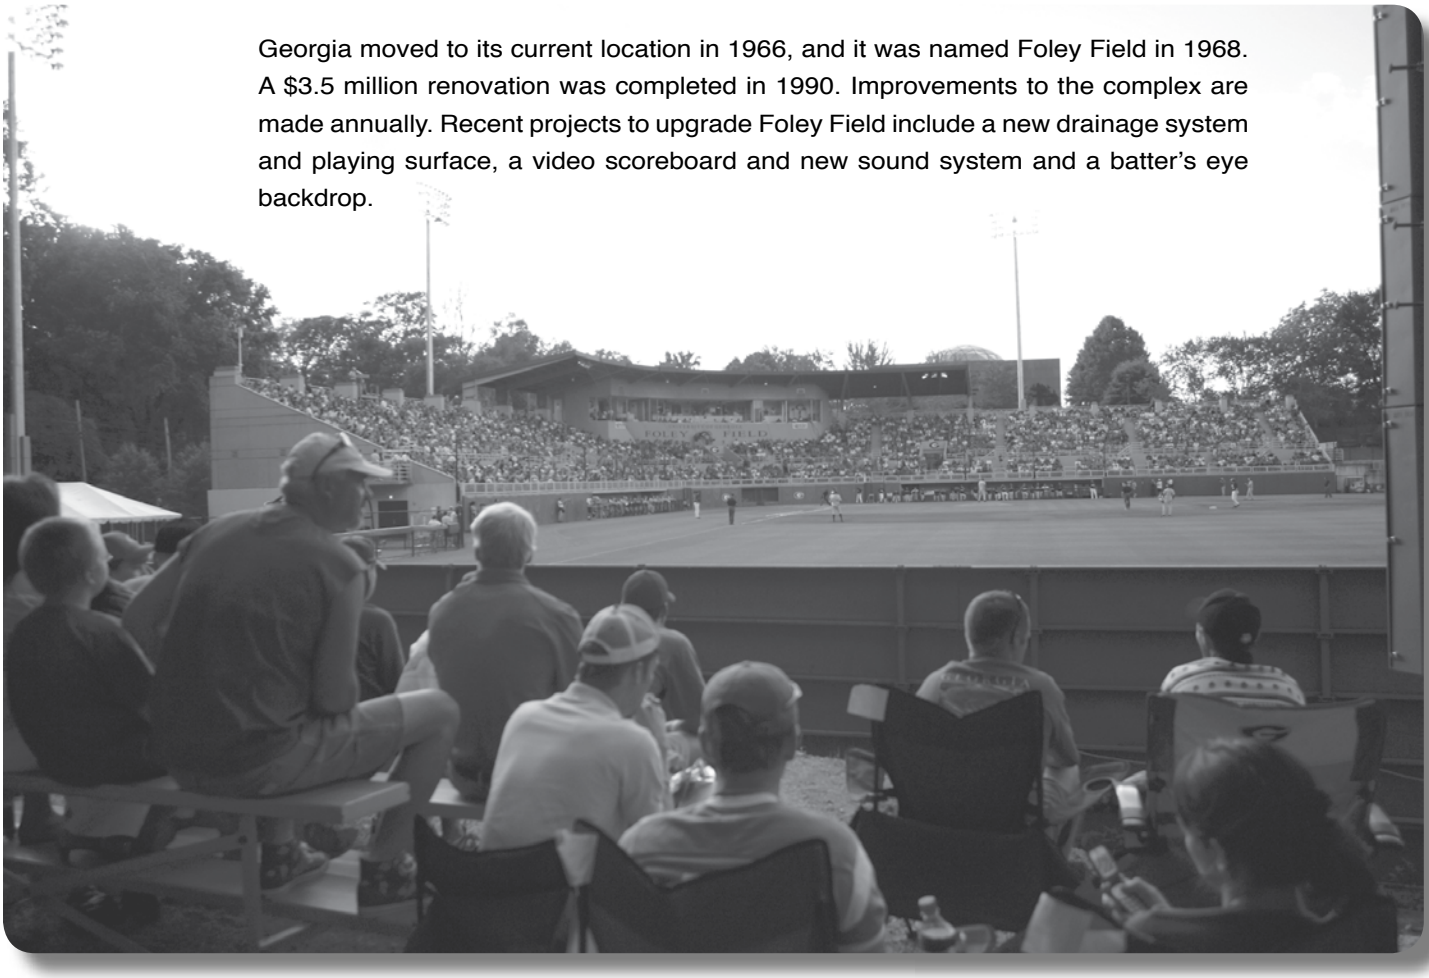
Georgia moved to its current location in 1966, and it was named Foley Field in 1968. A $3.5 million renovation was completed in 1990. Improvements to the complex are made annually. Recent projects to upgrade Foley Field include a new drainage system and playing surface, a video scoreboard and new sound system and a batter's eye backdrop.



Foley Field

Home of The Bulldogs

Foley Field, constructed at a cost of $3.5 million in 1990, is one of the finest baseball complexes in the country. The stadium's capacity of 3,291 includes chairback and bleacher-style seating. The grandstand area is covered by a partial roof with both concession stands and rest rooms located in the stadium. A new playing surface and drainage system was installed in the summer of 2003.

The complex continues to get better with new chairbacks on the lower level and in the covered area of the grandstand added in 2003. There are indoor and outdoor bullpens and indoor hitting cages. The lower portion of the stadium includes a spacious locker room, players lounge, a coaches office, an equipment room plus exercise and athletic training facilities.

Georgia Baseball Before Foley Field

The first home for the Diamond Dogs was Herty Field where they played from 1886 until 1911. After that, they moved to Sanford Field until 1943.

The Bulldogs who played at Sanford Field and later advanced to the Major Leagues included Alf Anderson, Spurgeon Chandler, Nolen Richardson, Johnny Rucker, Fred Sale, Chick Shiver, and Homer Thompson. Bulldog Pond Lippett threw the first no-hitter at home in Georgia history, blanking Pittsburgh 6-0 in 1920. Sale pitched a perfect game at Sanford Field in 1923, a 4-0 win over Virginia. It was the first perfect game in Georgia history and one of only two to date.

After World War II, the Diamond Dogs played on a field with no name located on "Ag. Hill," where Stegeman Coliseum is today. When construction for the Coliseum began in 1962, the Diamond Dogs moved to their freshman field, which is next to where the Butts-Mehre building is now. In 1966, the Diamond Dogs moved to their current location, and two years later, it was named Foley Field. On May 5, 1990, a $3.5 million refurbished Foley Field was dedicated.

The 1975 Team: In Big Jim Whatley's "swan song" as the Bulldog baseball coach, Georgia captured the SEC Eastern Division title. The players included senior captain Phil Baker, All SEC outfielders Larry Littleton and Bubba Wilson and one of the top hitters in the SEC in Ted Dieter. On the mound, these Bulldogs were led by All-SEC hurlers Bill Ivie and Mickey Register along with Mike Keepers and Wayne LaHullier.

ACADEMIC ACHIEVEMENT CENTER

The Athletic Association is proud of its $7.2 million Rankin M. Smith, Sr., Academic Achievement Center. The 31,000-square foot center serves the needs of more than 500 student-athletes at Georgia with tutorial rooms, conference rooms, counselors' offices, computer labs and teaching space. There is also a lecture hall, student lounge and a large banquet area.

Adjacent to several athletic venues, the Academic Achievement Center is convenient for student-athlete access. Each of the 80 computer work stations are equipped with multimedia capabilities and high-resolution monitors and graphics and network cards. The computer lab has access to the highest-quality network and scanners.

The University of Georgia enjoys a rich tradition of academic achievement among its athletic programs. UGA has long experienced excellence on the playing field and in the classroom. Through the years, the Athletic Association's academic staff has developed programs to address all aspects of a student-athlete's collegiate experience -- academic achievement, personal development and career planning and placement.

UGA Athletic Director Damon Evans with Academic Honor Roll member and 2008 MLB first round draft pick Gordon Beckham.

Student Services

The primary emphasis of the Student Services staff is to assist UGA student-athletes to achieve their personal goals by ensuring that they earn a degree, by providing opportunities for personal growth, and by offering guidance in making career and employment decisions.The response to the career planning service has been especially positive. Southeastern employers in both the private and public sectors seek student-athletes as employees because of good work habits acquired through athletics and their ability to manage time wisely.

2009 Bulldog graduate Jonathan Wyatt was a starting outfielder on Georgia's 2004 and 2006 College World Series teams.

2009 Bulldog graduate Trevor Holder was a starting pitcher on Georgia's 2006 and 2008 College World Series teams.

2009 Bulldog graduate Ryan Peisel was the starting third baseman on Georgia's 2006 and 2008 College World Series teams.

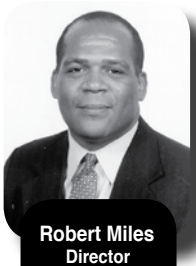
Georgia A Leader in CHAMPS/Life Skills

The CHAMPS/Life Skills program was developed by the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics (NACDA) to help student-athletes broaden their horizons beyond the classroom and fields of competition.



Robert Miles
Director
CHAMPS/Life Skills

Recently, Georgia was recognized by NACDA for its outstanding implementation of the CHAMPS/Life Skills program which is directed by Robert Miles.

The CHAMPS/Life Skills program focuses on five components that UGA emphasizes in the growth of and development of student-athletes:

A Commitment to Athletic Excellence: This ensures that each student-athlete will be provided facilities, coaching and support services that will enable each to excel in a broad program of sports.

A Commitment to Personal Development: This ensures that each student-athlete in the CHAMPS/Life Skills program will be provided opportunities to focus on personal growth issues such as values clarification, goal setting, fiscal responsiblity, decision making and stress management.

A Commitment to Service: This is our challenge to student-athletes to give back to communities and individuals who are in need. With a clearly defined program of service, our student-athletes have opportunities to develop the foundation for a lifelong commitment to volunteerism.

A Commitment to Career Development: This places a priority on preparing for life after athletics. The program acquaints student-athletes with the job serach process, provides networking opportunities and ultimately assists with job placement.

A Commitment to Leadership Development: This places an emphasis on programs and services that maximize student involvement and allows student-athletes to develop leadership skills. Student-athletes are encouraged to transfer the leadership training learned through athletic participation into all aspects of campus life.

The baseball team has helped build houses with Habitat for Humanity.

The Bulldogs made several trips to the Omaha Home For Boys during the 2008 CWS.

Georgia freshman Chance Veazey got a Bulldog sendoff from his teammates when he transferred from St. Mary's Hospital in Athens to the Shepherd Center in Atlanta.

The Bulldogs chat with the fans at an annual "Meet The Team" day at Foley Field.

The Bulldogs hold a free skills clinic for kids each year at Foley Field.

GEORGIA BASEBALL UTILIZES MODERN WEIGHT ROOM AND ATHLETIC TRAINING ROOM

The University of Georgia Athletic Association prides itself on providing an environment that fosters student-athlete welfare and enhances the overall student-athlete experience. Georgia's athletic facilities are among the best in the nation. Recent upgrades include an Olympic sports weight training facility that opened in 2007 as well as an expanded athletic training room at Foley Field.

The weight room is now unsurpassed in serving the strength and conditioning needs of student-athletes. The expanded training facility includes whirlpools, saunas and a state-of-the-art therapy pool with underwater treadmill which is part of the rehabilitation center.

STRENGTH & CONDITIONING AWARDS

Since the 2003-04 season, the Georgia baseball program has honored the top baseball student-athletes (one hitter and one pitcher) who strongly exemplify the characteristics of the off-season training program. The critieria they must exhibit includes an outstanding work ethic, commitment, discipline and determination throughout the off-season.

EAST CAMPUS VILLAGE

UGA's East Campus Village complex, which cost nearly $100 million and opened in 2004, features four residence halls and the East Village Commons. Rooms in the halls are fully furnished and full of amenities. The halls holds up to 1,200 students in two- and four-bedroom suites with private baths. Each student has a private bedroom and bathroom. Living at the "ECV" combines the comforts of apartment living with the convenience of being on campus. A common area in each suite includes a living room large enough for a big screen television and the kitchen includes a refrigerator as big as the one you left at home.

Adjacent to the housing area, a dining hall is open along with a five-level parking deck too. The complex also houses a restaurant, a gourmet coffee shop, a specialty deli and an ice cream shop. The complex is within walking distance of the Ramsey Student Center, the Georgia Museum of Art and the Hugh Hodgson Concert Hall.

Dr. Michael F. Adams
President

Dr. Michael F. Adams was named the 21st president of the University of Georgia on June 11, 1997. He immediately focused on securing UGA's future as one of America's premier public research universities.

Widely recognized as a leader in higher education administration, Dr. Adams has held a number of significant leadership positions in intercollegiate athletics. He is chairman of the NCAA Executive Committee.

A strategic plan, completed in 2001 at his direction, identified three themes for UGA's growth in the first decade of the 21st century: Building the New Learning Environment, Maximizing Research Opportunities and Competing in a Global Economy. Under Dr. Adams' leadership, student quality has risen steadily and the University of Georgia has been recognized as one of the nation's very best public research universities for eight of the past 10 years by U.S. News & World Report.

External funding for research, public service and instruction totals more than $200 million annually. Private giving to the university is at its highest level ever; UGA completed the Archway to Excellence Campaign on June 30, 2008 with more than $630 million.

"The people of the state of Georgia deserve a flagship institution every bit as good as the citizens of Virginia or Michigan or California or North Carolina," Dr. Adams said when he was named president. "I am committed to making the University of Georgia that kind of institution."

Damon Evans
Athletic Director

University of Georgia football letterwinner and double degree holder Damon Evans was selected as Director of Athletics in December, 2003, and assumed duties officially on July 1, 2004. At the time, he was just 34, and one of the youngest athletic directors in the country. However, he had already established himself as an up-and-coming athletic administrator.

Evans has received several honors including the Street & Smith's Sports Business Journal "40 Under 40 Award" for 2004, 2005 and 2007, the UGA Terry College of Business Award as the "Outstanding Young Alumnus," and Sports Illustrated's "101 Most Influential Minorities in Sports."

Today, Evans oversees a nationally recognized program with 21 intercollegiate sports teams involving more than 600 student-athletes, an $84 million budget and a 260 person staff. He is a member of several Southeastern Conference and NCAA committees, Chairman of the NCAA Division I Leadership Council, and is involved in volunteer and community service roles across the state of Georgia.

He was born in Nebraska but spent much of his youth in Gainesville, Georgia where he graduated from Gainesville High School after a stellar career both athletically and academically. He is married to the former Kerri Budd of Atlanta, and they have two children, Cameron and Kennedy.

DID YOU KNOW?

UGA ranked first among national universities, both public and private, in payback ratio, according to the January 2009 issue of Smart Money magazine. The magazine, published by the Wall Street Journal, quantified the long-term value of education based on tuition costs and graduates' earning power at different stages in their lives. UGA's payback ratio is 338%.

Endowment Program

The UGA Athletic Scholarship Endowment Program represents a long-term resource for providing scholarships to Georgia student-athletes. The program allows friends and supporters of the Athletic Association to invest in the educational opportunities of UGA student-athletes. A gift to establish a scholarship provides income towards funding a scholarship each year and permanently memorializes the donor or any individual in whose honor the scholarship is named. A full scholarship is endowed through a gift of $150,000. For more information on the Athletic Scholarship Endowment Program, please contact the UGAA at 877-GA-DAWGS or via e-mail at gadawgs@sports.uga.edu.

The Athletic Association embarked on the largest fundraising campaign in school history in the summer of 2001. The $60 million Investing in Champions campaign was part of UGA's $500 million Archway to Excellence Campaign. On June 30, 2008, the campaign surpassed its objective with $65.4 million in gifts and pledges collected for the three featured components; the Athletic General Endowment Fund, the Athletic Scholarship Endowment Program and Facility Enhancements and Special Projects. This campaign was essential for UGA to remain a leader in the world of collegiate athletics and to continue to provide our student-athletes with the necessary tools to compete at the highest levels in the classroom and on the playing field.

All athletic scholarship endowment donors are invited to an annual dinner where they have the opportunity to connect with the receipient of their scholarship. The following scholarships have been established to benefit student-athletes on the baseball team:

Leon Farmer Scholarship Endowment

Leon Farmer Jr., and Leon Farmer III, UGA alumni from Athens, have fully funded four scholarships for student-athletes in football, men's basketball, baseball and gymnastics in memory of Leon "Sarge" Farmer, a popular UGA and Athens High ROTC instructor and founder of Leon Farmer and Company.

University News

*Chartered by the Georgia General Assembly Jan. 27, 1785, in Savannah, UGA is America's first state chartered university and the birthplace of the American system of public higher education.

*UGA received a total of $137.3 million in research awards, grants and contracts for fiscal year 2008. Research expenditures in FY08 totaled $350.3 million.

*In 2008, UGA concluded the largest and most successful fund-raising effort in its 223-year history when the Archway to Excellence campaign ended with a total of $653.6 million. The campaign, which far exceeded its $500 million goal, focused on building the University's endowment to support major academic goals and meet educational needs of students and faculty.

Kiplinger's* magazine ranked UGA fourth on its list of best values among 100 public colleges and universities.

*UGA ranked 20th in U.S. News & World Report's 2008 list of the 50 top public universities in America. The rankings are based on such factors as academic reputation, student retention, faculty resources, student selectivity and financial resources.

The Wall Street Journal* included UGA among 16 "Hot Schools" that are drawing increased attention from students and families because of cost, safety and academic quality advantages.

*UGA students have wireless access to the Internet through a wireless system network called Personal Access Wireless/Walkup System (PAWS). The system, which covers several "zones," allows students and other authorized users to use their Web browsers, check e-mail or use other Internet-enabled applications with laptop computers.

Leadership for Georgia

*The University's Grady College of Journalism and Mass Communication administers the Peabody Awards program. Often cited as the most prestigious award in electronic media, the Peabody Awards recognize excellence, distinguished achievement and meritorious service by radio and television networks, stations, cable television organizations, producing organizations and individuals. The Peabody archives, housed at UGA, contain some of the best radio and television programs produced in the last six decades.

*UGA is a national leader in study abroad, ranking 5th among the top 20 research institutions. Nearly 30 percent of UGA undergraduates are involved in some form of international education each year.

*UGA is both a land grant and sea grant institution, and is home to the State Botanical Garden and the Georgia Museum of Art, designated by the Georgia General Assembly as the state's official botanical garden, art museum and natural history museum.

GEORGIA BASEBALL ON THE INTERNET

Media can obtain all current information on Georgia Baseball by visiting its home page on the Internet.

News on all Georgia sports, as well as links to the home pages of the University, the SEC and the NCAA can be found.

Georgia fans that live outside the range of WMGZ--FM 97.7 can still follow Bulldog baseball games live by subscribing to UGAA's official pay site GXtra.

Follow the links for Live Audio and Gametracker features from Georgia's homepage:

www.georgiadogs.com.

Note: In order to follow the broadcast/telecast, the pop-up blocker setting on your computer must be turned off.

GEORGIA BASEBALL ON THE RADIO

All Georgia baseball games including the postseason can be heard live on WMGZ 97.7 FM out of Eatonton, Ga. They will serve as the flagship station for Georgia Baseball this year. Each game will include the "David Perno Post-Game Show," which airs about five minutes after each game. Also for the first time in school history, all SEC games and the Georgia Tech series will be available to all the affiliates on the Georgia Bulldog Radio Network from ISP Sports.

Veteran sports reporter Jeff Dantzler returns for his 15th season as the lead baseball play-by-play announcer. Also, he handles play-by-play duties for Georgia women's basketball. Throughout the season, Dantzler will be joined on the broadcasts by various members of the the Georgia Bulldog Radio Network from ISP Sports.

If there is no radio coverage available in your area, you can sign up for GXtra to catch all Bulldog baseball games live on the internet. Follow the links for Live Audio and Gametracker features from Georgia's homepage: www.georgiadogs.com.

The Georgia Sports Communications staff is pleased to assist you with your coverage of UGA Baseball. We will provide notes, statistics and scorecards, NCAA boxscores, fax and e-mail services.

CREDENTIALS AND PARKING: All requests for working press, radio, television or photographer passes should be made to Christopher Lakos, Sports Communications, P.O. Box 1472, UGA, Athens, Ga., 30603-1472 as soon as possible prior to game day. Call (706) 542-1621, (Fax) 542-7993; E-Mail: clakos@sports.uga.edu. All written requests should be made on official letterhead. Credentials may be picked up at the Will Call Window at the front gate of Foley Field.

With ample parking available in the commuter lot behind left field, no parking passes are issued.

INTERVIEWS AND PRACTICE: Please contact the Sports Communications office (706) 542-1621 for interview requests. Georgia players and coaches will be available after practices and games in their dugout following a brief cooling off period. The locker room is closed to the media. Most practices are open to the media.

STILL AND TV PHOTOGRAPHERS: Accredited photographers will be allowed to shoot on the field. Photographers must stay outside the playing area and past each dugout. The areas in front of the dugout, inside the dugout and around home plate are off limits.

TELEPHONES: Telephones in the press box for the working media are used on a first-come, first-serve basis. Only collect and credit card calls may be placed. If you need a phone line installed, please contact Dee Alexander of Bell South at (404) 829-0128. When ordering lines, the street address which should be given is Foley Field, 1 Rutherford Street, Athens, Ga., 30603.

TELEVISION: A television box (Booth D) is located in the press box and camera platforms for home plate, high first base and centerfield positions are in place. Low first base and third base positions are on the field.

TOBACCO POLICY: In keeping with UGAA policy, the entire seating area and press box of Foley Field has been designated as a tobacco-free area.

VISITING RADIO: Two courtesy phone lines and one ISDN line are provided. The visiting radio team broadcasts from press box Booth B (First Base side).

DIAMOND DOG SUMMER AND HOLIDAY BASEBALL CAMPS

Directed by the University of Georgia head baseball coach David Perno and camp coordinator Kris Edge, the summer of 2010 as well as in mid-December each year offer an opportunity to receive elite instruction with a positive approach in covering all areas of the game of baseball. The fundamentals and instructional programs have been developed by Coach Perno and his staff.

With capacity of each camp limited, there is an excellent coach-to-player ratio. This allows each player to receive the most efficient instruction possible from the staff. It is our goal to have the best coach-to-player ratio of any baseball camp in operation and to assist each player to improve to his highest level of ability. We want each player to leave the camp feeling that he is a better baseball player.

Registration and information for all individual camps can be accessed through www.georgiadogs.com (click on Fan Zone/ Camps).

FACILITIES

All camp activities will be held at Foley Field, home of the University of Georgia Bulldogs.

Campers will have access to the playing field for instruction and games, indoor hitting cages behind the third base dugout, outdoor bullpens in the left and right field areas and indoor pitching mounds behind the third base dugout. We will use adjacent athletic fields for certain instructional times and specific needs.

Diamond Darlings

There is a select group of University of Georgia students who annually serve as "Diamond Darlings" for the Bulldog baseball program. The 37-member group including four captains is under the direction of Brianna Jewett. They are highly visible at Foley Field on game days assisting in various activities including fan relations, promotions and press box operations. They also serve as bat girls at home games and selected road contests.

The captains this season are Jessica Black, Elizabeth Bickers, Ellyn Dupuis and Julie Hampton.

Interviews for Diamond Darlings are conducted each fall. For more information on the program, please contact the Georgia baseball office.

NCAA Baseball Tournament Field Features 64 Teams

Now in its 12th year featuring a field of 64 teams, the NCAA baseball tournament format is similar to the system in place for college basketball.

The champions of all 30 baseball-sponsoring conferences now receive automatic bids, while the number of at-large selections is 34. There are 285 schools that sponsor Division I baseball.

The tournament format includes the following: Sixteen four-team double-elimination regional tournaments to be played June 4-7 at campus or neutral sites. Then, eight two-team, best of three "Super-Regionals" will be played June 11-14 at campus or neutral sites, with winners advancing to the double-elimination College World Series (CWS) June 19-30 in Omaha, Neb.

SERIES HISTORY WITH THE ATLANTA BRAVES

From 1988-2008, the Bulldogs faced the Braves in their Spring Training opener 10 times. Both teams used wood bats in the game along with a 10-player lineup and a designated hitter. After the game, the Bulldogs received commemorative wood bats compliments of the Braves.

THE RESULTS
1988: Atlanta 5-0
1991: Atlanta 2-1
1994: Atlanta 10-5
1996: Atlanta 2-1
1998: Atlanta 6-1
2000: Atlanta 11-3
2002: Atlanta 11-3
2004: Atlanta 11-3
2006: Atlanta 10-1
2008: Atlanta 8-0

Atlanta played its regular position players for the first part of the game while the pitchers were mainly its top prospects, However, twice the Braves started a Major Leaguer on the mound. In 2000, the Braves gave the start to Bruce Chen, and in 2006, it was Horacio Ramirez.

Georgia has hit a home run four times: Josh Hudson in 1998 off Bruce Chen; Adam Swann in 2000 off Winston Abreu; David Coffey in 2002 off Scott Sobkowiak; Marshall Szabo in 2004 off Roman Colon. Former Bulldogs who played for the Braves in these exhibitions include pitcher Derek Lilliquit who started against Georgia in 1988, second baseman Jeff Treadway in 1991 and catcher Clint Sammons in 2008.

Joshua Fields chats with ESPN's Peter Gammons.

Adam LaRoche scored on a double by Kelly Johnson to give the Braves a 2-1 lead in 2006.

1988: Atlanta 5, Georgia 0

West Palm Beach, Fla: Atlanta scored all five runs in the first three innings as first baseman Gerald Perry went 2-for-2 with two RBI. The game featured many rising stars for the Braves including Tom Glavine, John Smoltz, David Justice, Jeff Blauser and Ron Gant. Former Bulldog All-American Derek Lilliquist earned the win while Joe Kelly took the loss.

NOTEWORTHY: This was the first game against a professional team in modern Georgia history. The Bulldogs got just two hits, singles by Bruce Chick and Brian Jester. The earliest exhibition came in 1908 when Georgia faced the New York Yankees, known as the Americans then, with New York winning 4-1.

1991: Atlanta 2, Georgia 0

West Palm Beach, Fla: The defending NCAA champion Bulldogs held the Braves to just four hits but a two-run home run in the fourth inning by newly acquired first baseman Sid Bream (2-for-2, 2 RBI) was the difference. William Brennan got the win in relief of Charlie Leibrandt while Joe Bodvake was tagged with the loss.

NOTEWORTHY: Georgia got just three hits including two from first baseman Doug Radziewicz.

1994: Atlanta 10, Georgia 5

West Palm Beach, Fla: The Braves scored seven runs in their last three innings for a 10-5 win. Royal Thomas was the winning pitcher while Matt Clark got the loss. Ryan Klesko went 3-for-5 with a monster home run. Jim Polo, Scott Haley, Chris McCranie, Chad Whittemore and Pete Arenas each drove in a run for the Bulldogs.

NOTEWORTHY: Georgia scored for the first time ever (2-0 in the first) and tied the game twice (3-3 in the fifth and 5-5 in the seventh). Atlanta hit four home runs (Klesko, Javy Lopez, Troy Hughes and Mike Kelly). Georgia's Lloyd Rowland, who hadn't played in a college game at that point in the year, went 2-for-2.

1996: Atlanta 2, Georgia 1

West Palm Beach, Fla: Georgia played the defending world champions tough. A sacrifice fly by Jermaine Dye in the sixth inning was the difference as Georgia managed five hits to Atlanta's six. Carl Schutz was the winning pitcher while Doug Bridges was the tough luck loser. Tyler Houston went 2-for-2 for the Braves while Georgia's Joey Cranford went 2-for-3.

NOTEWORTHY: Georgia struck first but Atlanta answered, tying the game 1-1 in the second. Shane Pangle's run-scoring single for the Bulldogs' 1-0 lead made ESPN's SportsCenter.

1998: Atlanta 6, Georgia 1

Lake Buena Vista, Fla.: Atlanta scored six runs on 10 hits, all singles, to post a 6-1 win. Georgia provided the Braves with three runs courtesy of two balks and an error. Georgia took a 1-0 lead in the first on a solo home run by sophomore Josh Hudson off Bruce Chen. Atlanta reliever Micah Bowie was the winning pitcher while freshman Kyle Goodson got the loss.

NOTEWORTHY: Hudson's home run was the first by a Bulldog in the series, and the highlight made ESPN's SportsCenter. He also threw out former Georgia football signee George Lombard, a top Braves prospect, trying to steal second base. Hudson had two of Georgia's four hits on the afternoon.

2000: Atlanta 11, Georgia 3

Lake Buena Vista, Fla.: Georgia fell 11-3 but matched the Braves in the hit department with 10. However, five of Atlanta's hits cleared the fences including two off of Kyle Magee who got the loss while Bruce Chen went two innings for the win.

Sophomore right fielder Adam Swann tied the game at 1-1 with a solo blast off Winston Abreu. Atlanta got homers from Brian Jordan, Reggie Sanders, Freddy Garcia, Trenidad Hubbard and Rafael Furcal.

NOTEWORTHY: The national media swarmed down on the Braves complex this day with the arrival of pitcher John Rocker while for others the story was Andres Galarraga's first game back from cancer. Sophomore catcher Doc Brooks nearly had an inside-the-park home run but he was thrown out at the plate. Sophomore left fielder Kris Edge and junior designated hitter Mark Thornhill had two hits apiece.

2002: Atlanta 11, Georgia 3

Lake Buena Vista, Fla.: Atlanta erased an early 2-0 deficit en route to an 11-3 win. Senior Brandon Anglin blanked the Braves through the first two innings. Atlanta took the lead in the third, scoring four runs on three hits including a two-home run by Mark DeRosa off freshman Bo Lanier. Trailing 8-2 in the sixth, sophomore David Coffey gave the Bulldogs a highlight as he launched a home run off Scott Sobkowiak.

NOTEWORTHY: Seniors Darryl Blaze and Matt Cavender along with sophomore Justin Holmes had two hits apiece. Ned Yost threw out Wilson Betemit trying to steal second. Gary Sheffield made his Atlanta debut and went 2-for-2.

2004: Atlanta 11, Georgia 3

Lake Buena Vista, Fla.: For the third straight time in the series, Atlanta posted an 11-3 win. A crowd of 3,447 at Cracker Jack Stadium saw the Braves outhit the Bulldogs 18 to nine. Offensively, junior catcher Clint Sammons went 2-for-2 with a double for the Bulldogs while Braves second baseman Richie Lewis went 3-for-3 with two runs scored. Atlanta took the lead in the first inning, scoring five runs off Georgia starter Rip Warren. Junior Marshall Szabo got Georgia on the scoreboard in the second inning with a solo home run off Braves starter Roman Colon. Colon went on to post the win while Warren got the loss.

NOTEWORTHY: In his Braves debut, J.D. Drew was called out on strikes. In his second at bat, Drew launched a solo home run off David Timm. Johnny Dobbs was the lone Bulldog to retire the Braves in order in an inning, doing it in the fourth.

2006: Atlanta 10, Georgia 1

Lake Buena Vista, Fla.: Senior Kyle Keen opened the exhibition with a double off major leaguer Horacio Ramirez and later scored on a sacrifice fly by junior Joey Side for a 1-0 edge. However, the Braves went on to score 10 unanswered runs for their latest victory in the series. Freshman Iain Sebastian made his debut with two solid frames, allowing just one unearned run with three strikeouts. The Braves combined to score eight runs off senior Jason Fellows and redshirt freshman Stephen Dodson. Oscar Villareal struck out four in two innings for the win while Fellows got the loss. Seven different Braves drove in at least one run including Jeff Francouer who tied the game in the second. Kelly Johnson's run-scoring double gave the Braves the lead for good in the fourth.

NOTEWORTHY: Keen, Jonathan Wyatt, Matthew Dunn and Matt Robbins were the only Bulldogs to notch hits. Robbins got a single off of Jose Ascanio who touched 99 MPH on the radar gun in the ninth. Former Bulldog catcher Clint Sammons played three innings for the Braves and scored two runs.

2008: Atlanta 8, Georgia 0

Lake Buena Vista, Fla.: Swinging wood bats, the Georgia Bulldogs managed seven hits but no runs in an 8-0 exhibition loss to the Atlanta Braves in front of 3,408 fans at Champions Stadium. It marked only the second time in the series history that the Braves blanked the Bulldogs. In 1988, Atlanta won 5-0. Atlanta grabbed a 1-0 lead in the first on a run-scoring single by Braves newcomer Mark Teixeira. Atlanta added three runs in the second on a two-run double by Chipper Jones and an RBI-single by Kelly Johnson.

GOING DEEP

Like the Atlanta Braves, the Bulldogs use wood bats in the game. Four Bulldogs have hit a home run against Atlanta: Josh Hudson in 1998 off Bruce Chen; Adam Swann in 2000 off Winston Abreu; David Coffey in 2002 off Scott Sobkowiak; Marshall Szabo in 2004 off Roman Colon.

NOTEWORTHY: Senior third baseman Ryan Peisel went 3-for-4 to lead the Bulldogs at the plate while freshman Justin Grimm, senior Joshua Fields and sophomore Alex McRee pitched a scoreless inning apiece to headline the nine pitchers who saw action. McRee struck out the side around a walk and a base hit.

"Spring Baseball Classic For Kids"

For the eighth consecutive year, Georgia will battle Ga. Tech at Turner Field, home of the Atlanta Braves, in the event billed as the "Spring Baseball Classic for Kids." The 2010 game will be on April 27. Georgia holds a 6-1 edge in the series at Turner Field.

All tickets are $12 with proceeds benefitting Children's Healthcare of Atlanta and its Brain and Spinal Cord Tumor Program as well as the "Prayers For Chance" fund. This fund has been set up to help offset medical expenses for Bulldog freshman infielder Chance Veazey.

The game has raised more than $200,000 annually for the not-for-profit pediatric healthcare system. Since 2004, there have been more than 20,000 tickets sold annually for each game.
